10 Million Acres Covered By Flood

By NICK TATRO
Associated Press Writer

Floodwaters have inundated 10.4 million acres of land in seven states, officials say. They estimate damage to farm crops and businesses at $193 million.

The rain-swollen Missouri punched holes Wednesday in 92 Central Missouri levees, including one near St. Louis that forced the evacuation of 600 mobile home residents at Boshetown, Mo.

Thousands of families from the Gulf of Mexico to the Great Lakes have been affected by the floods which have forced many to abandon their homes or lose their livelihoods.

The flood claimed two more victims Wednesday, raising the death toll to at least 10.

The body of George Thad Watts was found in St. Charles County, Mo., and authorities say he apparently drowned as he waded through flood waters to reach his trailer home.

In Illinois, Larry Wolfe, 23, of Havana drowned as he was bringing a boat filled with sandbags to shore up the Illinois River levee.

Maj. Gen. Charles Noble, who tallied the damage for the Mississippi River Commission at Vicksburg, Miss., said Louisiana and Arkansas had the most acreage under water — a combined total of 6.8 million acres.

Drenching rains, tornadoes, and hail pounded Arkansas Wednesday night and more than 200 persons fled their homes in North Little Rock where Mayor Robert L. Rosamond said the damage would exceed $1 million.

In Baton Rouge, La., the Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation estimated flooding will cost state farmers more than $69 million if conditions persist. Almost 300,000 acres of farmland are flooded in that Delta state, threatening crops of soybeans and sugarcane.

The Louisiana Conservation Department said the petroleum industry is losing $300,000 a day because 600 oil wells and 140 gas wells are inundated. Production of 45,000 barrels of oil a day and 300 million cubic feet of gas a day has been stopped.

But because of levee breaks in Central Missouri, the National Weather Service said the pressure was relieved in the Delta area and record crests predicted earlier would be delayed 36 to 48 hours.

At St. Louis a crest of 43.5 feet or 13.5 feet above flood stage was expected Saturday, the highest in 200 years of recorded history. Damage was expected to be light because the city is protected by a 52-foot wall.

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz and Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., plan to fly over flooded areas in Tennessee today to assess damage caused by weeks of heavy rain.

In the South, cotton is probably the most endangered crop, experts say. Thunderstorms generated locally heavy rains and hail over the South today while a spring storm in the West dumped rain and snow over the central Rockies and adjacent Plains.

Drizzle and fog dampened wide areas of the east.

Hailstones nearly 2 inches in diameter pounded north-central Alabama near Muscle Shoals and hail even larger hit parts of south-central Texas.

A severe thunderstorm watch was in effect during the night in south-central and southeast Texas.

One to two inches of rain soaked Little Rock, Ark., and Tallahassee, Fla. A tornado was sighted near Jacksonville, Fla., before midnight.

Snow mixed with rain chilled areas from the central Rockies to western Kansas and Nebraska, where 2 inches of snow accumulated. Stockmen's advisories were posted for those areas.

Rain, drizzle and fog dampened the east from the eastern Ohio Valley to the Middle Atlantic States and southern New England.

Temperatures near freezing nipped parts of the Great Lakes region.

Skies were clear west of the Rockies, except for coastal fog in central and Southern California.

Committee Loads War Poll

WASHINGTON (AP) — Workers for President Nixon's re-election committee mailed in more than a third of the favorable responses recorded in a local television poll last year of reaction to the mining of North Vietnamese waters, a campaign official said today.

DeVan L. Shumway, spokesman for the Committee for the Re-election of the President, said he didn't regard it as rigging the poll because "we felt the Democrats would do the same thing." "That type of voluntary poll is the most stackable thing," he said. "When you're involved in an election, you do what you can. We assumed the other side would do the same thing."

The final result of the poll, as announced by Metromedia station WTTG, was 5,157 agreeing with Nixon's decision to mine Haiphong harbor and 1,158 disagreeing. When WTTG reported the results May 15, it said that it had received several thousand postcards that were of a suspicious nature because they apparently had been typed on the same typewriters. Shumway said "about 2,000 ballots and responses" were mailed by committee workers.

In other Watergate developments: —Vice President Spiro T. Agnew told a news conference, "I want to make it very clear that I have full confidence in the integrity of President Nixon and in his determination and ability to resolve the Watergate matter to the full satisfaction of the American people."

There have been published reports quoting unnamed associates and friends of Agnew as saying he was upset over the break-in and bugging at the Democratic national headquarters in the Watergate and felt the President had done too little to uncover the facts.

"Let me emphasize that I do not speak through such unidentified sources," Agnew said. He read a prepared statement, then declined to answer questions.

The Los Angeles Times said it is standing by its story of April 13 that Agnew "is reported to be personally appalled by the affair and by the way the administration has handled it."

—The Washington Post quoted Kenneth S. Rietz, a former Nixon campaign official, as denying he recruited four or five young persons to infiltrate Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern's campaign organization. Rietz, 31, was director of the "New Majority Campaign" of the Republican National Committee when he quit abruptly Monday to accept a job with MGM records.

—Former Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird denied speculation that he will return to Washington at Nixon's request to help clean up the White House staff as a result of the Watergate affair.

He told a reporter Wednesday in Marshfield, Wis.: "I was drafted four years to end our involvement in South

Japanese Labor Trouble Spreads

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's annual spring labor offensive for higher wages threatens to paralyze the nation's rail and ship transportation and to disrupt postal, telephone and possibly television services for the rest of the week.

With commuters having gone on a rampage already this week because of a railway slowdown, 50,000 police were placed on the alert across the country

Sweden Rips U.S. Bombing In Cambodia

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Swedish government charged the United States today with indiscriminate bombing in Cambodia.

Foreign Minister Krister Wickman told Parliament the government cannot approve a big power involving itself in a civil war in a small country. He added that the U.S. bombing in Cambodia was particularly objectionable because it hits the civilian population indiscriminately.

The minister said the government also looks severely on the renewed hostilities in Laos.

It was the second major attack by Sweden's socialist government on U.S. policy in Indochina.

Prime Minister Olof Palme last Christmas compared the heavy U.S. bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong to Nazi atrocities during World War II.

This so infuriated President Nixon that the State Department told the Swedish government the new ambassador it was preparing to send to Washington would not be welcome, and the U.S. charge d'affaires to Stockholm was not allowed to return to his post after a Christmas visit to the United States.

to guard against more violence.

Longshoremen at 90 ports walked off the job this morning for three days, demanding $63 a month more. They have been offered $50.

About 250,000 employees of the government-run national railway system — the world's biggest with a daily passenger load of 18 million — were expected to leave their jobs at midnight for 72 hours.

The rail workers also are asking for large pay increases, an average of $78 a month. But the real sticking point is the refusal of Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka's government to grant them the legal right to strike.

Workers on the private railways and municipal subways, which together handle 22 million passengers daily, planned to strike also.

But the union of private railway workers indicated it might be willing to make peace with the 111 companies involved if a satisfactory pay offer was made. It was asking about $74 more than the present average monthly wage of $286.

About 90,000 telecommunication, telephone and postal workers affiliated with the national railway union said they would walk out in sympathy with the other strikers and also for more pay. A glut of 30 million letters and parcels is expected to pile up.

International telephone calls and some television programs are also likely to be affected.

Employees of the government's salt and tobacco monopolies and of the mint also were scheduled to strike.

Trade Deficit Slows Down During March

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's trade deficit narrowed to $52.6 million in March, the best month since September 1971, the Commerce Department reported today.

The department said seasonally adjusted imports for March totaled $5.4 billion and exports totaled $5.3 billion.

The March deficit of $52.6 million was a considerable improvement over the deficit for February of $476.2 million when imports totaled $5.5 billion and exports totaled $5.06 billion.

The department said the March rise in exports of $315 million consisted largely of an increase of about $120 million in aircraft deliveries and an expansion of $180 million in shipments of agricultural products.

It said the decline of $109 million in imports during the month was in industrial supplies and consumer goods.

While the figures were a dramatic improvement over February, the department said they "should not be interpreted as indicative of underlying trends."

CAVE-IN—Problems arose, or fell down, Thursday morning when the city's street sweeper caved in the foundation of a house at 212 E. Mill St. Crewmen were sweeping an alley between Mill and Union Streets when the wheel on the heavy sweeper apparently sank into soft ground and knocked down the foundation wall. Workman tried to pull the sweeper out of the hole with a wrecker, but could slide it only a few inches. City Service director Atwood Jones called for a crane to hoist up the front end in an effort to remove the machine.

17-Year-Locusts Set To Emerge From Long Sleep

CHICAGO (AP) — Millions of cicadas are about to emerge from 17 years of darkness for a short but tenebrous existence before disappearing for another 17 years.

These Rip Van Winkles of the insect world, commonly called 17-year locusts, are the longest lived of all insects. But all except a few weeks of that life is lived underground.

During those few weeks, the mating call of the male cicada reaches a crescendo in midafternoon and the rhythmic chorus can be heard a quarter-mile away.

Henry Dybas, curator of insects at the Field Museum of Natural History, said in an interview Wednesday that "locust" is a misnomer for the cicada, but that the term is so widely used it's hopeless to try to change it.

Cicadas, unlike true locusts — grasshoppers — do not devour plants. They feed on the sap of trees.

They do some damage when the female cuts slits in the bark to lay her eggs, but for mature trees this has only the effect of "natural pruning," Dybas said. Younger trees might suffer some harm.

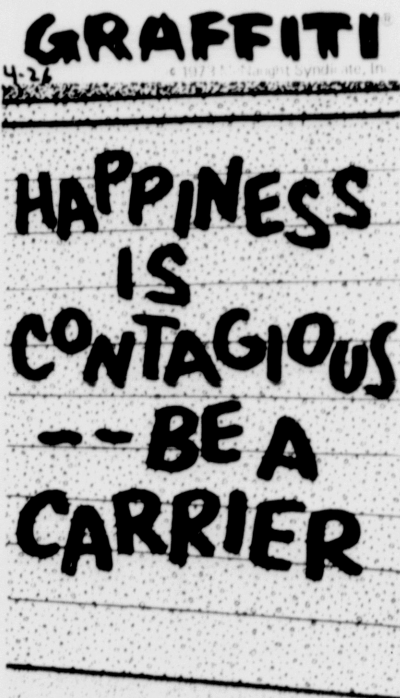

With remarkable precision, periodical cicadas have been known to emerge for centuries right on time.

There are other 17-year cicadas, and in the South there are 13-year cicadas, but none in between, although occasionally something goes awry with their biological timeclocks and a few emerge off schedule.

Mitchell Unaware Of VVAW Bugging

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — John N. Mitchell says he was not aware of any plans by employees of the Committee to Reelect the President to conduct electronic surveillance against the Vietnam Veterans Against the War. "I have no recollection of any electronic surveillance relating to such people," the former U.S. attorney general and manager of the Nixon campaign testified Wednesday in U.S. District court.

Mitchell's testimony came during a pretrial hearing for seven VVAW members and a supporter charged with conspiracy to disrupt the 1972 Republican National Convention with bombs and bullets.

U.S. Seeks To Avert Collapse Of Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. diplomatic sources say a new round of Paris talks is aimed at guiding the Vietnam conflict onto a political track before the three-month-old cease-fire is completely shattered.

Should the U.S.-North Vietnamese effort fail, some tough decisions may have to be made by the Nixon administration, these informants say. They would not elaborate.

Ambassador William H. Sullivan, outgoing head of the Vietnam task force that helped negotiate the Paris peace accord, left Wednesday night for preparatory talks in the French capital with Nguyen Co Thach, Hanoi's deputy foreign minister.

Unless there is an unexpected hitch, the preliminary meeting, due to last only a few days, will be followed in mid-May by discussions between the architects of the Paris agreement, presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and North Vietnamese Politburo member Le Duc Tho.

Kissinger himself, in an address to The Associated Press annual meeting in New York Monday, said it is a brutal fact that all "the important clauses of the agreement ... have been systematically, if I may say, cynically violated by the other side."

Hanoi has registered similar charges against the United States and the Thieu government of South Vietnam.

In announcing the Sullivan-Thach meetings jointly with Hanoi, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Wednesday the purpose will be "to prepare a review of the implementation of the Paris agreement" and to weigh measures "to bring about the strict implementation of the agreement."

State Department spokesman Charles W. Bray said later the diplomatic move was initiated by this country "as part of an effort to bring the agreement as a whole back into effective force."

Bray told newsmen: "You can safely put this preliminary round of discussions between Ambassador Sullivan and Mr. Thach in the context of an earnest, serious effort by the United States to restore the agreement in all of its provisions to the effective state that was envisaged when it was negotiated and signed."

North Vietnam, in a formal note two weeks ago, accused the United States and South Vietnam of "grave violations" of the Paris agreement, including military thrusts at areas in the South under Viet Cong control. The United States last week responded with a note charging Hanoi and "its agents" with several serious breaches, including a clandestine buildup of troops and supplies in South Vietnam.

Cambodia will be one of the top items in the forthcoming talks. The United States contends that North Vietnam could use great influence with Cambodian insurgents to end fighting in that country because it supplies them weapons and equipment. In addition, the United States contends that North Vietnam is pinning down major elements of the Cambodian army by maintaining between 30,000 and 40,000 soldiers in the country.

Butz Proves Self No Omelet Maker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, often on the grill in the recent controversy over rising meat prices, has had another sizzling session — this time over a pan of eggs.

Butz was persuaded to turn chef Tuesday at a luncheon of the American Egg Board, whose product is on the government's list of plentiful foods. The order of the day was an omelet, naturally, and Butz wielded the spatula with some help from board member Dr. L.A. Wilhelm.

The result was a bit ragged and brown at the edges.

"Now what do I do with it?" the cook wanted to know.

"Eat it," suggested Dr. Wilhelm, who added some advice about leaving the laying of eggs to the hens.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — A slumping stock market held its ground for a while today, then began to slip again.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was off 4.06 to 926.48 after having been ahead by more than a point earlier. The index fell more than 32 points in the week's first three sessions. Declining issues held a 657-to-484 lead over those advancing in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

On the American Stock Exchange, the price-change index was down .01 at 23.70.

Davis Food Service, Atlanta-based Kentucky Fried Chicken franchise, was the Amex's most-active issue. It shot up 3 3/4 to 15 after Heublein, Inc., announced it had agreed in principle to acquire the company.

The Big Board's index of some 1,500 common stocks was off 0.26 at 57.27.

Promotion Announced By Du Pont

S. C. COMPNER

S. C. Compner, 582 Hickory Place, has recently been appointed area supervisor of the local Du Pont plant's Kapton-Teflon film installation.

Compner came with the company Dec. 28, 1964 as an engineer in the Circleville plant's Project Section. In February, 1968, he was promoted to supervisor-works engineering, and later appointed assistant area supervisor-works engineering.

On July 1, 1971 he became project supervisor. He attended Miami University and is a graduate of Ohio State University with a bachelor of electrical engineering. He received his masters in industrial systems engineering from Ohio University.

Married, Compner and his wife Paula are the parents of two children, Stephen Douglas, 7, and Mark David, 4. They are members of the Community United Methodist Church. He is a past coach of little league teams in the Circleville Youth Baseball Program and is a member of Masonic Lodge 196, Bainbridge.

DES Substitutes Also Dangerous

WASHINGTON (AP) — All three livestock-growth drugs recommended by the Agriculture Department as substitutes for outlawed DES have been classified by government scientists as proven or potential cancer-causing chemicals.

"All estrogens are considered to be carcinogens, since all estrogens that have been adequately tested have been shown to be carcinogens in animals," a Food and Drug Administration biologist concluded in an internal memo two years ago.

DES, fed to U.S. cattle and sheep for more than 20 years to produce meat faster and more cheaply, causes cancer in laboratory animals and has been linked to vaginal cancer in young women whose mothers took the drug during pregnancy.

In announcing completion of the DES ban to include ear implants as well as feed additives, the FDA sought Thursday to minimize the possible impact on inflated meat prices.

Because DES substitutes are available to cattle and sheep producers, Acting Commissioner Sherwin Gardner said, the ban effective Friday "need not disrupt the nation's meat supply, cause an increase in meat prices or have an adverse effect on the environment because of increased animal waste."

The USDA followed with its own announcement listing as alternatives hormone or hormone-like products containing estradiol benzoate, progesterone, testosterone propionate and zeranol or zearalanol.

They are among 10 hormonal drugs the FDA classifies as proven or potential carcinogens, according to the March 4, 1971, memo from Ernest J. Umberger, director of the FDA's Division of Drug Biology.

"The cases of diethylstilbestrol (DES) and estrone are well-documented" as carcinogens, Umberger wrote. "Estradiol and estrone are normally converted from one to the other in the animal body."

"The evidence that progesterone and testosterone are carcinogens is somewhat tenuous but, since both of these compounds are metabolized to estrogens in the body, we have maintained that they are potential carcinogens and have treated them as carcinogens in considering their use where they might possibly become a food additive."

Problems Plague Red Space Station As U.S. Sets Skylab

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — While Russia's Salyut 2 space station appears in trouble, the final major prelaunch test has begun here for America's first orbiting station, Skylab.

A lengthy countdown rehearsal, which started Wednesday night, will prove the readiness of the hardware and give launch teams valuable experience conducting simultaneous countdowns on two rockets.

Skylab, as large as a five-room house, is to be launched unmanned May 14 by a Saturn 5 rocket. The next day, the Skylab 1 astronauts, Charles Conrad Jr., Paul J. Weitz and Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin, are to be lofted into space by a Saturn 1B rocket.

The astronauts are to hook up with the station and remain aboard for four weeks, conducting medical, scientific and earth resources experiments. Later in the year, the Skylab 2 and 3 crews will visit the same lab, each for eight weeks.

The twin countdown practice, scheduled to conclude May 4, got under way as informed U.S. space observers reported Salyut 2 apparently is in difficulty along with the entire Soviet space program. Space agency officials said that if there was serious trouble, they hoped it could be overcome and not affect a joint American-Russian orbital mission scheduled in 1975.

The Soviet station, about one-third the size of Skylab, was launched April 3 amid indications that a Soyuz 12 craft carrying two cosmonauts would soon be sent into orbit to rendezvous with it.

But the manned vehicle never was launched.

Fess Parker Sued

By Food Deliveryman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A deliveryman has filed a suit against actor Fess Parker for $50,000, contending Parker's dogs attacked him while he tried to deliver groceries.

Marvin Lee Martin, 47, said in the Superior Court suit filed Wednesday that Parker's dogs attacked him last March 29 as he was delivering items from Jurgensen's Market to the actor's Hope Ranch property near Santa Barbara, Calif.

Western space authorities say they have learned that large fragments of Salyut 2, probably including large power-producing solar panels, have broken away, leaving the station crippled and without radio signals.

The Russians have maintained silence on the fate of Salyut 2.

Local PPG Industries Plant Receives Minute Man Flag

J. M. Butler, plant manager of the Circleville Plant of PPG Industries, Inc. was again awarded the U. S. Treasury Minute Man Flag from Pickaway County Savings Bond Chairman Kenneth Fosnaugh and U. S. Treasury Area Manager Luther Gunsett.

Those present for the flag raising ceremony were Alan Ferenchik, James Butler, Kenneth Fosnaugh, Luther Gunsett, Mrs. Esther Winks, Canvasser for the Circleville Plant, Bob Wilson and Willard Seekatz, who were new bond participants during the campaign.

The Minute Man Flag is emblematic of more than 50 per cent participation in the bond program by the PPG employees. This flag is given only to those companies who have exceptional participation in the Savings Bond Program.

The Circleville Unit of PPG Industries, Inc., increased the bond participation to 70 per cent.

Man Slain After Killing Girl Friend

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland police say a 23-year-old man was fatally wounded by police gunfire after killing his former girl friend at a West Side intersection Wednesday.

Police said patrolmen Norbert Berenson and Anthony Ament happened to be at the intersection during the evening rush hour and saw Robert Bishop of River Edge Township hitting his former girl friend, 27-year-old Lillian Andrews of Lakewood.

Detectives said when Berenson got out of the cruiser and approached Bishop's car, Bishop fired two or three shots at the woman with a .38-caliber gun, then pointed the gun toward Berenson. Ament and Berenson opened fire, and Bishop also fired his gun, police said.

Bishop died at St. John Hospital.

Homicide detective Peter J. Becker said Bishop had forced Miss Andrews into his car after she left work at a nearby plant. Witnesses told police Bishop slugged Miss Andrews several times with his gun as he drove on Madison Avenue, then stopped the car and hit her repeatedly.

Police said Bishop was arrested last month and charged with aggravated assault after he allegedly held a gun to Miss Andrews' head in her apartment for 12 hours. Bishop was free on bond awaiting trial on that charge.

Post-Bugging Questions Remain

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the web of involvement in the Watergate affair finally is untangled, a question will remain to haunt the Nixon White House: Why did they do it?

Why, while President Nixon's reelection prospects soared and his early Democratic rivals floundered, did men in his campaign organization deem it necessary to try wiretapping?

And why the earlier attempts at spying and apparent political sabotage against Democratic candidates who seemed to need no assistance in bungling their campaigns?

For all the investigations into who acted and who knew of Republican political spying in 1972, there may never be a clear answer as to motive.

"What really hurts in matters of this sort is not the fact that they occur, because overzealous people in campaigns do things that are wrong," Nixon said last Aug. 29. "What really hurts is if you try to cover it up."

That is hurting now as Watergate accusers point to men high in the White House, while Nixon's spokesmen deny the President had any knowledge of what was going on.

There has been a claim that political surveillance originally was ordered because of a risk of demonstrations against Republican campaigners.

But that could hardly be a motive for the wiretapping-burglary at Democratic headquarters last June 17, or for the abortive attempt to bug the campaign offices of Sen. George McGovern three weeks earlier.

It seems more likely that Watergate happened because the Committee for the Re-election of the President was unleashed to do what its title said, with more money to spend than any candidate could really need.

Jeb Stuart Magruder, who actually ran that committee in its early days, before John N. Mitchell resigned as attorney general for his stint as chairman, has testified that the organization spent some $48 million on the campaign. It had $4 million left over after Nixon's landslide re-election.

So there was plenty of money to pay substantial sums to a college student recruited to infiltrate the campaigns of McGovern and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, and to finance alleged sabotage efforts.

And there are charges now that the same treasury financed efforts to buy the silence of the seven men convicted in the Watergate raid.

Republicans now say that the Nixon campaign operation functioned with ample latitude to plot and do what was done, and without the knowledge of the President.

"You need only know the players involved," said Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas, the former Republican chairman, who never cared much for the CRP operators anyhow.

What the Nixon campaign committee seems to have had was a budget and a license for political overkill, both of which it used.

By the time the Watergate raid occurred, McGovern, the Democratic candidate Nixon men were said to have feared least among the opposition prospects, was clearly on his way to nomination.

The campaign for Muskie, who once as towering front-runner had led Nixon in 1971 public-opinion polls, had collapsed. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey was still trying, but with scant hope of nomination.

There was no evidence any covert CRP operation had significantly affected that Democratic situation.

On June 16, the day before the Watergate burglary, George Gallup's pollsters began three days of soundings which found that Nixon had a 60-per-cent-approval rating as president. That polling also discovered that in a two-man race, Nixon led McGovern 53 per cent to 37 per cent.

Ultimately, Nixon won with 61 per cent of the vote to McGovern's 38 per cent.

So the President was in firm command of the presidential campaign, if not his own staff and organization.

There is another irony in the fact that the Watergate crew had bugged a Democratic headquarters that actually had little to do with what was happening in the presidential campaign. It was managing the debt, scheduling the convention, and dealing with party leaders who had lost their clout to the McGovern newcomers.

McGovern hammered the Watergate issue throughout his campaign—but a month before the election, a Gallup Poll reported that 80 per cent of those interviewed did not consider the wiretapping case a strong reason to vote for the Democratic nominee.

The White House was denying all charges, standing on a Nixon statement that no one in the administration was involved. That statement has now been overtaken by events, and pronounced inoperative.

And the latest Gallup Poll indicates that 41 per cent of the American people believe Nixon knew in advance of the Watergate bugging.

Jury Seated For Civil Case

A jury of eight was seated Thursday morning in a civil matter involving a Rockcamp truck driver and the Marzane Inc. asphalt plant near Williamsport.

Five women and three men were selected to hear testimony in Raymond Russell's suit for damages and compensation stemming from an accident at the asphalt plant site.

Russell, 39, a truck driver, alleges he suffered extensive burns and loss of earnings when hot tar being transferred from his truck to a storage tank spilled onto his body. He claims the company's equipment and manpower were insufficient and caused the July 15, 1971 accident.

Russell is seeking $35,000 total damages.

Named to the jury were: Helen Good, Eleanor Spicer, Sheldon Winner, Georgia Walker, Virginia L. Hoffman, Charles Harter, Helen Beavers and Virgil Hayslip. Seated as alternate juror was W. F. Crist.

War Powers

If Congress has permitted its constitutional powers to declare war to be eroded almost to the point of nonexistence, as some members contend, the lawmakers have themselves to blame.

The Constitution is explicit in giving Congress the sole authority "to declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal and make rules concerning captures on land and water."

Five times in American history Congress has declared formal war on another country, each time at the request or following the acts of the president. On six other occasions the United States engaged other nations in extended hostilities without benefit of a congressional declaration, including of course the longest and most divisive action of them all—Vietnam.

The question who holds the war-making powers under the Constitution is not a new one, nor is it really much of a question at all. The Constitution places that power in Congress, but history shows the power never has been exercised the way the framers of the Constitution intended.

A more relevant question is what to do about it. A chief executive who alone wields the potential for involving the nation in war is not at all what the Constitution says, or what a majority of the public wants.

It will be difficult for Congress to retrace the steps in which it acquiesced to the evolution of war authority. But it ought to assume that responsibility or amend the Constitution to bring the nation's basic law in tune with the initiatives taken by at least a dozen presidents.

Today In History

Today is Thursday, April 26, the 116th day of 1973. There are 249 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1607, Capt. John Smith landed at Cape Henry, Va., with the first group of colonists who would establish a permanent English settlement in America.

On this date:

In 1783, 7,000 Tories sailed from New York for Nova Scotia.

In 1865, Abraham Lincoln's assassin, John Wilkes Booth, was captured on a farm near Port Royal, Va.

In 1925, Paul Von Hindenberg was elected president of Germany.

In 1945, Bremen, Germany fell to British forces during World War II.

In 1962, the first international satellite was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla. It was a joint U.S.-British venture.

In 1964, the African nations of Tanganyika and Zanzibar merged to form a new nation, Tanzania.

Ten years ago: Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro arrived in the Soviet Union for meetings with top officials.

Five years ago: The biggest nuclear blast in the United States took place underground in Nevada and jarred buildings hundreds of miles away.

One year ago: President Nixon ordered new U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam, but vowed to continue bombing of the north until Hanoi halted its invasion of the South.

Today's birthdays: Entertainer Carol Burnett is 39. Publisher Cass Canfield is 76.

Thought for today: Many toil hard to earn a loaf when a slice is sufficient — Dutch proverb.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is it possible to have gall bladder disease without stones in the gall bladder?

I have had all the symptoms that point to it and am being treated for it although X-rays have shown I have no actual stones.

Is surgery ever performed for such a condition?

Mrs. I.V., Tenn

Dear Mrs. V.:

Acute gall bladder disease, or "cholecystitis," is almost always the result of small or large stones that lie in the gall bladder. The stones obstruct the free passage of bile from the gall bladder into the upper part of the intestine, where it is used for the digestion of fatty foods.

When the bile is dammed back, the gall bladder is distended, and the lining becomes thickened, swollen, and inflamed. The same process can occur in the absence of stones. Bacterial infection and sluggish movement of bile may produce the same symptoms as those caused by stones.

The outstanding symptom of gall bladder disease, with or without a stone, is acute pain in the right upper part of the abdomen. One of the characteristics of the pain is that it radiates to the right side of the back, underneath the shoulder blade.

Yet this is not always a symptom of gall bladder disease and must be carefully differentiated by the doctor.

Inflammations of the pancreas, stomach ulcers, and hepatitis may cause similar symptoms. Even pneumonia, with irritation of the diaphragm, can resemble the picture of gall bladder disease.

Conservative medical treatment can be tried. The antibiotics and pain relievers can control acute episodes of this painful condition.

Rigid diets are helpful in avoiding some of the repeated attacks of acute gall bladder disease.

A skin rash often appears on the hands, chest, and legs. It itches and lasts for about two hours, and then disappears.

What causes this?

Mrs. J.J.T., La

Dear Mrs. T.:

I'll name a few causes of skin rash, to give you some idea of how difficult it can be to try to track down the cause.

(1) Allergic reactions to detergents, soaps, and cosmetics.

(2) Allergic responses to foods (especially shellfish) or drugs.

(3) Contact with leaves and plants, such as poison ivy, poison oak, poison sumac.

(4) Emotional stresses and anxiety.

(5) Infectious diseases such as measles.

(6) Contact with certain clothing fabrics, such as wool, synthetics or even silk.

With diligent examination, the cause of these transient skin rashes can usually be determined.

Sometimes allergic testing is necessary to find the offender.

In memory you can go home again anytime by a thought.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If rising prices are getting you down, you might take inspiration from the indomitable fortitude with which White House advisers face head-on the economic storm.

By assuming such a posture, it is conceivable you might even conclude that the winds of inflation are mere zephyrs, and that all those markups at the store and those statistical indicators issued each month depict an unreal world.

Treasury Secretary George Shultz, for example, finds that if you exclude the 30 per cent annual rate of food price increases in March you will discover that price rises were really "quite moderate."

Viewing that same price report last Friday, Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, found it "contains the first encouraging signs on prices we have seen in the past two months."

If that is so, you are justified in wondering what signs guided Stein a month earlier when, in a speech, he remarked: "The rise in food prices is near its end."

Had he taken his cue from James McLane, Deputy Director of the Cost of Living Council, who issued at the same time a white paper, the thrust of which was that the high point for food prices might soon be reached?

A month before that, on Feb. 12, Stein advised Americans that while retail prices would continue to rise for a time, no big bulge in prices generally should result from the shift to less rigid controls.

That was midway in the first quarter of the year, and the first quarter also of the Phase 3 decontrols, a period in which consumer prices bulged at an 8.8 per cent annual rate, highest in 22 years.

Was this the "reasonable price stability" for which, Stein said on Jan. 23, conditions were improving? Or was it the "period of unparalleled economic progress" with full employment and price stability promised last Oct. 31?

It can be unnerving to check on White House price forecasts, for in retrospect they seem innocent, puerile, futilely optimistic.

The White House interpretations indicate, as they have for more than a year, that a turning point is coming. The surveys of consumer attitudes show they don't believe it.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Some state representatives are repeating the oldest fallacy of the human race; the idea that you can lessen an evil by legalizing it. The state lottery is one step toward legalized gambling. Past history in America gives ample proof that where legalized gambling has been tried it has failed.

The issue is a spiritual one, fraught with immediate significance for the character of the nation. The quicker we get over the idea that getting something for nothing will build up the economic and moral structure of America, the better. On May 8, vote NO on Issue 1.

Classless Medical Care Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's health chief wants a medical care system in the state that can't tell the difference between rich and poor, young and old, city and country.

"We should have one class of medical care in Ohio," said Dr. John Cashman, director of the State Department of Health. "We never will have a completely classless society, but we should have one in which there is one standard of medical care for all people."

Cashman pointed to one segment of society which is not capable of getting medical aid under the present health care system. He calls them the "medically indigent — they are not poor enough to receive federal Medicaid and not rich enough to have private health insurance."

People on Medicaid, he said, get limited health care, while the affluent obtain all they can afford. The medically indigent, he said, are left out of the scheme of health care.

"They are the people who let a lot of medical problems slide," he said. "They let the dental work go, which is always the first to suffer when there is no money."

"Then they don't go see a doctor when they should. Often a case of diabetes is not treated until it becomes serious. Hypertension goes untreated as do a lot of chronic illnesses."

Cashman added, "I would personally oppose a plan that zeroes in on only the poor and medically indigent." Instead, he wants to retool the entire

The task force will conduct open meetings around the state in the next two months. The committee has been directed to report to the governor by Dec. 21.

Mrs. Dale Swackhammer Honored With OES Shower

Mrs. Dale Swackhammer was honored with a baby shower during the social hour which followed the regular meeting of Circleville Chapter 990, OES, Tuesday evening in the Masonic Temple. Gifts were placed on a lace covered table highlighted with a cake decorated with pink and blue baby booties.

Following the opening ceremony, worthy patron, Clarence Radcliffe, presented a reading, "Never Mind."

Worth matron, Kathryn Thomerson, introduced the following honored guests: Marie L. Hamilton, General Grand Chapter committee member and past grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Ohio; past matrons and patrons of Circleville Chapter, Mary Radcliffe, Beverly Currence, Chestora Peters, Margaret Shane, Marcelyn Evans, Bonnie Rector, Elaine Bowman, and Clarence Radcliffe; and Joseph Peters, Knight of the York Cross of Honor.

Invitations were extended to the chapter to attend the following annual inspections: Bainbridge Chapter 183, May 3rd, at Bainbridge; Lockbourne Chapter 575, May 18th, Groveport, and Belmont Chapter 555, May 19th, Dayton.

Members planning to attend the Grand Chapter Session in Cleveland, October 23rd-25th, were urged to pre-register as soon as possible.

Any member interested in sending a child to the OES Girls' and Masonic Boys' Camp at Craftsman Park, Akron, Ohio, may contact Mary Radcliffe, secretary, for more information.

Reports from the Good Cheer Committee were given by Lida Ross and Louise George.

Associate matron, Thelma Noecker, reported on the two recent stock sale dinners, and thanked everyone for their effort in making all of her projects a tremendous success.

Mrs. Thomerson invited all members to attend the next regular meeting of the Rainbow Girls on May 1st and their installation of officers on May 5th in the Masonic Temple.

Exemplification of the degrees of the Order of the Eastern Star was presented by the officers, and two new members were welcomed into Circleville Chapter.

Supper Honors First Birthday

A supper honoring Mark Barnhart, Route 1, Kingston, on his first birthday was held recently at his home. Following the meal, cake and ice cream were served.

Present were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barnhart; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Baylous, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnhart and Judy, and Brenda and Sam Parker.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were, Robert Greenlee, Gene Parker and Charles D. Parker.

The honoree, whose birthday was April 20th, left on Thursday with his parents to visit his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Whitten of Scott AFB in Illinois, and spent his birthday at the St. Louis Zoo in St. Louis, Mo.

Girl Scout Troop To Aid Seniors

Junior Girl Scout Troop 1084 will assist four seniors of Teays Valley High School with expenses for a trip to Russia planned for this spring.

The proceeds from a garage and bake sale to be held May 5th at the home of Mrs. Bill Sheekherd of Commercial Point will be given to the fund. Donations for the sale may be taken to Mrs. Sheekherd.

Tax Department Gets Man's Shirt

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois Department of Revenue has deposited a shirt, sent to the department by a Danville man, in the First National Bank of Chicago.

James E. Dolbee wrote a check on the shirt in payment for his 1972 state income taxes.

A department spokesman said Dolbee "wrote a check drawn on the Second National Bank of Danville on a short-sleeved white shirt that looked as if it has been worn."

The spokesman, who did not disclose the amount of the check, said it was mailed in a manila envelope.

"A note was attached implying that the state had taken the shirt off his back," the spokesman said.

American Legion Auxiliary Selects Girls State Delegate

Mrs. Betty Woods, president, presided during the business meeting of the Monday evening meeting of Unit 134 American Legion Auxiliary in the Post Home. Mrs. Robert Stephens, chaplain, opened the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Forrest Hoffman, Americanism chairman, announced Miss Suzanne Milburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milburn 323 Meadow Lane, has been chosen as the Unit's delegate to Buckeye Girls State. Miss Susan Estes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Estes, 605 Ridgewood Drive will be her alternate. Both are Juniors at Circleville High School.

Mrs. Herbert Stinson, child welfare chairman, reported serving ice cream, wafers and an Easter candy filled basket to the children of PICCA Day Care Center, First Presbyterian Church on Thursday preceding Easter Sunday. Clothing donations to disabled veterans families was also reported.

Mrs. Robert Stephens reported on the April visit to Chillicothe Veterans Hospital and thanked those members who donated items for the party. She read a letter of appreciation from Richard Comstark, Director of Voluntary Services at the hospital for the Unit's faithful service to the veterans and Mrs. Bess Simison's devotion as rehabilitation chairman for so many years. Mrs. Simison is recovering from recent surgery.

Mrs. Charles Caudill reported sending four get-well cards and one sympathy card. Mrs. Stenobe Stonerock, ways and means, reported on the recent successful bake sale held at Buckeye Mart and expressed her appreciation to the store and all members for their help. As membership chairman, she reported the Unit now has 220 members. A cash donation was made to the Cancer Society.

April 29, Leesburg Unit 568 will host the 7th. District Junior Conference. Registration 1 p.m. and the meeting at 2 p.m. Mrs. Stephens, woi is the 7th District Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation chairman, will be one of the speakers.

May 6th will be National Hospital Day at Veterans Hospital, Chillicothe with day long events planned. Mrs. Stinson and Mrs. Stephens recently completed Field Service Training at the hospital and are now qualified to work with veterans in Family Care homes in Pickaway County.

Mrs. Woods appointed Mrs. Charles Caudill, Mrs. Harold Hoffman, and Mrs. Forrest Hoffman to the Court Rules On Public Record Rights

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The public has a right to inspect and copy public records, even at the expense of public agencies when expense is incurred, the Ohio Supreme Court says.

Its decision came Wednesday in a taxpayer's suit against the Cleveland Division of Building, which declined a request by John W. White and others for information about building permits in the Ludlow community of East Cleveland.

They sought building and architectural plans filed with the commissioner of the division by Tom Rob, Inc.

Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court granted White's request for a writ of mandamus, compelling the commissioner to grant the request.

In its unanimous decision, the Supreme Court added its approval to an appellate court ruling that required the city to pay costs of supplying the information as well. The high court said Ohio law "establishes a public right to the inspection and copying of public records ... and plaintiff-appellees are entitled to attorney fees in their taxpayers' action."

In another Cleveland case, the court held that refusal of a trial court to grant a continuance in a criminal case is not grounds to seek a reversal of a conviction—if counsel has notified the court he is ready for trial.

A Rossford, Ohio, firm was turned down by the Supreme Court in its effort to compel the Wood County District Board of Health to issue it a solid waste disposal license.

The court said the appeal by Benton's Village Sanitation, Inc., was not proper because at the time it was filed, the health board had not taken final action on the firm's request.

In an unusual notation with its unanimous decision, the Supreme Court said it now "appears the board has entered an order on its records denying the license, and an appeal from that order is pending in the court of appeals."

An appeal from a final board order could be properly reviewed, the court added.

In a Carroll County case, the Supreme Court ruled that James A. Russell of New Philadelphia still must face trial on a second criminal charge although he was found innocent on another charge stemming from a labor dispute in Carroll County on Oct. 16, 1971.

Russell claimed double jeopardy and asked dismissal of a charge of assaulting a deputy sheriff after a jury acquitted him on another that accused him of burning a motor vehicle at the scene. He claimed the innocent verdict substantiated defense testimony that he was not at the scene of the disturbance, but was in New Philadelphia at the time.

The Supreme Court said that when a defendant is indicted for separate crimes at approximately the same time and place, "a writ of prohibition will not ...enjoin a later prosecution upon another separate indictment."

A Meigs County man charged in a wrongful death action in the fatal injury of his passenger in a Meigs

County auto crash May 26, 1969, was absolved of blame in another Supreme Court decision. The court said "wilful misconduct", required to be proven for conviction under Ohio's motor vehicle guest statute, was not proven against Harry Glen Brown of Minersville.

Brown was named in a suit filed on behalf of the victim, Barbara Jean Bailey, by Russell Bailey of Gallipolis, the administrator of her estate. The suit claimed "wanton negligence."

The Supreme Court said the statute requires proof that Brown knew his actions "probably would result in injury." Brown's car was struck by an oncoming vehicle after he gave the proper signal for a turn at an intersection, records showed.

Rhodes Seen As Strongest Gilligan Foe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Outgoing Ohio Republican Chairman John Andrews said Wednesday that recent "one-on-one" GOP polls showed former Gov. James Rhodes would be the strongest of five potential gubernatorial candidates against Gov. John Gilligan next year.

The polls indicate that Republican state Sen. Donald E. "Buzz" Lukens of Middletown would be the weakest, Andrews said.

"If the elections were held tomorrow," Andrews said, party statistics show that at least two possible candidates—Rhodes and U.S. Sen. William Saxbe—"would beat Gilligan, and the others would stand a chance."

The others in the order of their apparent strength are: Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, U.S. Rep. William J. Keating of Cincinnati and Lukens, Andrews said.

The polling was done by Markets Opinions Research of Detroit, the Ohio GOP's regular pollsters. Interviews ended the first week in April.

Andrews said the results contrast markedly with the only other "one-on-one" survey, conducted in February by Statewide Opinion Research of Ohio, which indicated Rhodes running 10 points behind Gilligan.

GOP officials also said the margin among the Republicans potentials "from the top to the bottom is relatively small."

He said Rhodes and Saxbe, in that order, were only slightly ahead of Gilligan, and that Brown, Keating and Lukens were only slightly behind the chief executive.

Andrews refused to divulge specific figures from the survey.

Total Ban On DES Set By Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Food and Drug administration later today will announce a total ban on the livestock growth drug DES, an industry source said.

A ban would add hundreds of millions of dollars to Americans' annual meat bills, according to government and industry estimates.

The additive is used to fatten cattle faster.

The FDA had imposed a ban on the use of diethylstilbestrol or DES in animal feed effective last Jan. 1, because illegal residues of the cancer-causing chemical were being found in edible tissue.

But until now, the agency had allowed producers to use DES ear implant pellets which, although more troublesome to cattlemen, also promoted livestock growth and weight gain.

The industry source said the FDA ban on implant pellets will be immediate, accompanied by a recall of all unused pellets on the market.

Animals which already have been implemented will be allowed to go to slaughter to avoid immediate disruption of the meat supply, the source said.

Columbus And Southern Ohio Reports Quarterly Earnings

The annual meeting of shareholders, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, was held Tuesday, general office building, 215 North Front Street, Columbus.

A. G. Green, president, reported first quarter earnings of 85 cents per common share on 6,800,000 shares outstanding, an increase over the 66 cents per share earned in the same period of 1972 on the 6,200,000 shares then outstanding.

Kilowatt hour sales increased by 9 per cent and revenues increased 17 per cent over the first quarter of 1972. Revenue increases were greater than kilowatt hour sales because of rate increases made effective in September and December 1972 to most of the Company's customers except residential and other small commercial and industrial customers in the City of Columbus.

An ordinance passed in November

4 LE Students To Play At Dogwood Concert

Four students at Logan Elm High School will participate in the Piketon Dogwood Festival Honors Band Concert 7 p.m. Saturday.

They are: Sherrie Marguaret, flute; Jim Cabil, clarinet; Jim Maton, oboe; Mark Bower, tuba.

David Meeker will be the guest director. A member of the Ohio State University College of Music faculty, Dr. Meeker is director of the Scarlet Concert Band and assistant director of the All Ohio Boys Band.

There will be more than 100 young musicians from Pike and neighboring counties participating in the concert.

8 Girls Picked For Colorguard

Eight young ladies were chosen for the color guard of the CHS Tiger Band for its 1973-74 marching season.

Donna Lucas was selected as captain of the guard Tuesday evening during tryouts for the band unit.

Gun bearer positions were awarded to Amy Woods and Debbie Allen. Bearers of the banner and flags are Kim Allison, Cathy Routt, Cindy Cook, Suzanne Schlegler and Dee Dee Poling.

Atwater Fun Night Scheduled Friday

The Atwater Parent Teacher Assn. Family Fun Night dinner will be served from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The dinner will be cafeteria style featuring John marzetti, hot Dogs, potato chips, jello, tossed salad and dessert. Fun booths will be open from 6 to 9 p.m.

Family Fun Night is the only fund raising project for the year sponsored by the Atwater PTA.

1972 by the Columbus City Council continuing the existing rates to those customers was appealed to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio seeking the establishment of higher rates. No hearing date has been set, and the Company cannot predict the amount or timing of any increase which may be authorized.

The Company anticipates the sale of 900,000 additional common shares in May. The shares will be sold to underwriters and reoffered to the public at a price based on the New York Stock Exchange closing market price on the previous day.

Construction of an 800,000 kilowatt generating unit at the company's Conesville station has been completed and this fourth unit, built by the Company for common ownership and operation with The Cincinnati Gas and Electric Company and The Dayton Power and Light Company is now in the testing process. The unit is expected to be in regular operation in time for the 1973 summer peak load.

The 0.8 mill tax levy proposed by the Central Ohio Transit Authority will be voted on May 8. If the levy is approved, it will enable COTA to acquire the assets of Columbus Transit Company.

Over 82 per cent of outstanding common shares were represented in person or by proxy at the annual meeting. G. B. Fenton, A. G. Green, R. J. Gruesser, J. F. Kurtz, J. L. McNealey, W. G. Porter, Jr., and H. C. Vincent were re-elected Directors. Also elected was J. E. Halliday replacing G. S. Claypool who has retired after serving 27 years as a director of the company.

Halliday is an attorney and associate in the law offices of Halliday and Sheets in Gallipolis.

Also approved was the amendment, to the company's articles of incorporation, to increase the allowable number of common shares to be outstanding from 8 to 12 million.

At the organization meeting of the board of directors, A. G. Green, R. J. Gruesser, J. F. Kurtz and J. L. McNealey were elected to the executive committee of the board.

Officers elected by the Board of Directors were: chairman of board and president, A. G. Green; executive vice president, R. J. Gruesser; corporate secretary, G. C. Shafer; vice president and chief financial officer, W. O. Randall; treasurer and assistant secretary, J. M. Emery; Assistant treasurer, Lois E. Goldsmith; vice president, controller and chief accounting officer, R. A. Heimann; assistant controller, K. L. Saul; vice president employee relations, B. T. Ray; senior vice president operations, J. P. Fenstermaker; vice president general services, R. J. Morris; vice president generation and transmission, F. V. Stine; vice president purchasing and stores, J. H. Inskeep; vice president distribution and service, R. L. Gaus.

The board elected E. E. Williams vice president, rates and valuation, effective May 1, 1973. He will replace J. W. Leech who will retire April 30, 1973.

Gilligan Backs Shaul Real Estate Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan inserted himself into the investigation over real estate licensing procedures Wednesday, contending "heads will roll" as the probe continues.

Gilligan appeared at a news conference with Commerce Director Dennis Shaul. He said the probe launched by Shaul had his full support.

The Ohio Real Estate Commission, part of the Division of Commerce, has for 25 years been operating on a basis "cronyism and favoritism," Gilligan said.

He said he will name a five-member commission made up of realtors, lawyers and businessmen to probe charges of special treatment for some persons taking the salesman or broker's exams.

"If it's unethical, they are going to get fired," he said of commission employees who may be involved. "If they were illegal, they're going to jail."

Former Gov. James Rhodes and several of his key aides obtained either a broker's or salesman's license four days before they left office, records showed.

Rhodes, according to former

Port Of Toledo Strike Continues

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Operations at the Toledo Overseas Terminal on Lake Erie remained at a standstill today as longshoremen continued their strike over a contract dispute.

No new negotiations were scheduled and officials said they were not optimistic about a quick settlement.

Meanwhile, two ships scheduled to stop at the port Wednesday were diverted to ports in Ontario, Canada, and Detroit.

Federal Grant Given To Youth Commission

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A $151,836 federal grant has been awarded to the Ohio Youth Commission to provide job training and employment services for delinquent youth.

commission Secretary Vernon S. McMillen, took a 45-minute oral exam in the governor's office for a broker's license, presented him the same day.

The average person takes up to a six-hour written test, supervised by commission staffers. The exam given salesmen lasts up to three hours, 30 minutes.

McMillen, a Democrat, was fired by Shaul after news stories broke about the Rhodes' examination. His assistant, J. David Maffeo, is now under suspension.

Maffeo, Shaul said, admitted giving tests to his wife, Betty, and his father,

Believe Fish Found Dead Were Dumped

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—State officials say a massive fish kill in Lake Erie off Lorain County earlier this week apparently was caused by a commercial fisherman dumping unwanted fish back into the lake.

A spokesman for the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency said tests are continuing on dead fish found floating in the lake. However, the spokesman said it was learned that a commercial trawler had been operating in the area where thousands of dead fish were observed.

Game wardens estimated that 5,000 fish were killed, most of them sheepshead. A spokesman for the Ohio Department of Natural Resources said there were large catches of sheepshead in the past week and the market has been glutted.

The spokesman, Marvin Katz, said game wardens theorize that the fish were pulled up in gill nets then dumped overboard.

Many of the fish probably were stunned or killed by the handling in the nets and the rapid rise to the surface, Katz said.

He said it is not uncommon for fishermen to dump tons of unwanted fish back into the water, but said this usually is done far enough out into the lake to go unobserved from shore.

Joseph. He said he was in the next room while they took the exam.

Maffeo also admitted giving a "special" exam to Samuel T. Britton, Gilligan's former minority affairs coordinator. He said the test was ordered by McMillen.

Gilligan said the investigation would be non-partisan. He said the special commission would have the authority to probe any special exam given "back as far as they want to go."

"A shadow is cast on the validity of these licenses," Gilligan said, noting there was no proof that they were not legal "at this point."

Both Gilligan and Shaul said special exams—those given in addition to the regularly-scheduled tests—are needed to accommodate the handicapped, such as the blind.

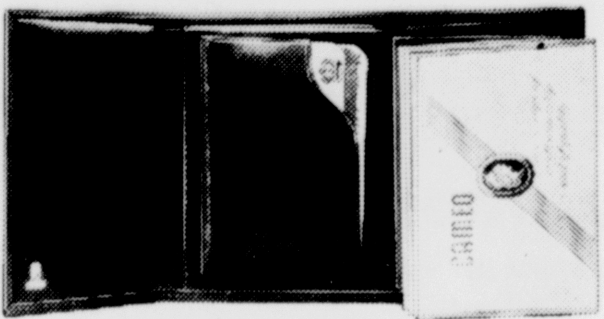

"The abuses of special examinations should and will be stopped," Gilligan said. He said he had full confidence in Shaul, whom he appointed just over a year ago.

Gilligan said when he hired Shaul he told him "go in and clean house." "That is just what he is doing," the governor said.

Stop saving for a new home!

You probably have more than you need to build your dream home now.

You've been saving for that large down payment on a new home. But you really don't need it!

Stop saving — because you can get started building your Ridge home right now!

You'll find the whole exciting story in the new Ridge Homes magazine. "Planning. Choosing and Building the Home That's Right for Your Family." In its 88 colorful pages, you'll see how you can own your dream home sooner than you thought. The feature article is by Francis Reers, a Ridge customer who started building his home with hardly any out-of-pocket cash.

One month's rent could be all the cash you need to start building your home. Like Francis Reers, if you own a building lot or can get one, a month's rent might be all you need to build the Ridge home of your choice.

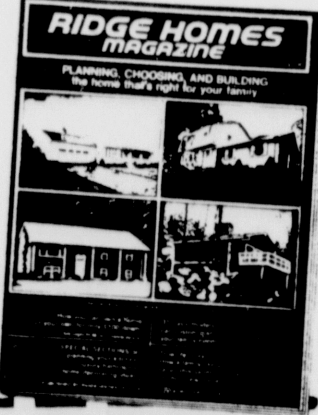

Your choice: that means you can custom-design a home just like the Reers family did. And they saved $4000 by doing some of the interior finishing. Those savings meant they could add luxuries they hadn't dreamed of before. And Ridge even made the financing easy for them.

You get exactly the home that suits your family. It starts with a selection from 35 basic Ridge models, all shown in the Ridge magazine. And you'll see floor plans, kitchens, bathrooms, color schemes and options galore.

And Ridge Homes has mortgage money, too!

As one of the largest home builders in the U.S., we have financial resources to help our customers build their homes. So mortgages are never a problem.

Join the 25,000 families who stopped paying rent, and moved into the new homes they thought they couldn't afford. Stop saving for that new home, and start living in it. Get your free copy of the Ridge Homes magazine at your Ridge dealer's. Or mail the coupon today.

Dean Martin Wed 3rd Time; Bride Is 30 Years Younger

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — "Best wedding I've ever been to," quipped singer Dean Martin after he took a 25-year-old model as his third wife.

And the straight man of the old Martin and Lewis comedy team said he had this instruction for the bartenders at the sumptuous reception following his marriage to Catherine Mae Hawn: "No glass should get lower than half empty."

Singer Frank Sinatra was the best man and Miss Hawn's 6-year-old daughter, Sasha, was the flower girl for the wedding Wednesday. Martin, 55, is 30 years older than his bride.

Martin's second marriage, to former model Jeanne Riegger, ended in divorce last November after 23 years with a settlement estimated at $6.5 million. Miss Hawn has been married once before.

About 85 guests were invited to the wedding ceremony at Martin's home in Bel-Air and more showed up at a reception at the Beverly Hills Hotel.

The living room of Martin's home had been cleared, then filled with flowers and church pews. The pews had been borrowed from two movie studios.

The flower arrangements included 200 dozen lilies of the valley, 200 dozen white lilacs and 92 dozen white tulips, all flown in from Paris.

The bride wore a French chiffon satin gown in peach champagne with high-draped neck and a long train.

During the reception, 22 cages of doves were released. Guests sipped French champagne and nibbled at goodies which included caviar from Iran.

"It's not expensive when you're in love!" Martin told newsmen.

She will retire at elaborate ceremonies after becoming the first woman to serve 30 years in the Marines. Deputies Called To Minor Wrecks

Two people were injured and a calf was killed in three auto accidents investigated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Wednesday night.

Debra E. Sanders, 20, Route 1, Orient, was treated at and released from Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, for injuries suffered in a head-on crash 5:45 p.m. on Route 762 near the Harrisburg-Darbyville Road.

Deputy Sheriff Billy Huffman said the Sanders vehicle was traveling east on Route 762 and apparently went left of center to pass through a narrow bridge. The car hit another vehicle, driven by Lloyd Malone, 55, Route 2, Grove City, head-on.

She was charged with driving left of center.

Deputy Huffman also investigated a one-vehicle accident on Route 104, north of Route 56, 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

According to the report, Mary Kirby, 23, Columbus, was driving on Route 104 when a calf, owned by William Richards, Route 2, ran into her path. The calf, between 4 and 6 months old, was killed.

Passengers in the truck were Roger Kirby, 27, and Ward Kirby, 18-months.

Cathy S. Dean, 21, Route 3, suffered a lacerated lip in a two-car accident 11:10 p.m. Wednesday on County Road 511 near Wilson Rd.

Deputy Jim Deal said the Dean vehicle hit the rear of a car driven by Royal A. Rayburn, 17, Ashville. Passengers in his car were Cathy and Vernen Crosby, Ashville.

Rayburn told the deputy that the Dean car was following his vehicle too closely. He apparently applied his brakes causing the accident.

Letters We Luv

Every year I'd resolve to save some money this year, but not much happened. Then a fellow at work says, "Every payday I bank my paycheck in my checking account with instructions to put $20 of it into my savings account. That adds up to over $1000 a year." Man, why didn't I think of that!

You too can arrange to have a certain amount ($10 or $20) or a certain percent (5 percent or 10 percent) from each checking account deposit put into your savings account. Discuss it with any associate of the First National Bank.

Sneek-A-Peek

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Do you like ridiculous questions and riddles? I'm full of them today. Here's one: Who sings quack-a-doodle moo in the morning? Do you give up? (I hope you're ready for this!) A duck, a rooster, and a cow sing quack-a-doodle moo! Here's another one: What is small, and blue, and full of fun, and can be found in the Sneek-A-Peek Room? No, it isn't the children's librarian; it is "The Little Riddle Book", a collection of nonsense stories and riddles by Peter Lippman.

Now for the ridiculous question: Can you swallow a squiggle, a triangle, or a curve? Of course you can! You swallow a squiggle when you eat spaghetti. You swallow a triangle when you eat a piece of pie. Can you guess what the curve would be? How about a banana? Teaching children to recognize various shapes becomes a game when they are identified with familiar objects. This beginning book about shapes, "Can You Swallow A Squiggle", is written by Hertha Klugman, and illustrated by Ann Wolf.

Here I go again! Did you know that "A Flower Pot is Not a Hat"? What is more, a dictionary is not a chair, a garbage pail is not a drum, and a garden rake is not a horse. This flower pot book is written by Martha Moffett and illustrated by Susan Perl. It starts with these basic assumptions, and creates a very interesting story.

If you can stand any more riddles, "Old Man Riddle, The Jokester of the Hill Folk" has one for the readers of his book. The riddle involved a mysterious package. It contains something which you can saw and saw, yet it doesn't split in two; something which goes to all the dances, but never taps a foot; something which you can tuck under your chin, yet it will fill the whole barn. If you can't guess the answer to this one, come in and get the book. It is written by Carl Memling, and illustrated by Jack Faulkner.

Riddle-lovers might also be interested in "The Grin and Giggle Book". It is a collection of humorous, short poems, jokes, riddles, puzzles, and picture stories.

Books like this are all you need to create some fun on a rainy April afternoon.

Ohio Bell Asks Speeded Action On Rate Request

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio was asked by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Wednesday to rule on its requested rate hike by May 10 or grant a temporary increase.

Ohio Bell President Frederick Eckley said the firm has "long since reached the point where we must pay more than we earn for the money we borrow to operate the business."

The company said it has shown in written testimony and in hearings since the rate increase request was submitted in 1971 that a return of 8.6 per cent on its rate base was reasonable.

The actual rate of return, it said, was shown to be only 3.3 per cent when the request was filed and is only 2.9 per cent now.

Shower-Singing Contest Slated

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP) — The first annual singing-in-the-shower competition will be held May 1 in the shower room of Rutland High School. Judges in the event, sponsored by the Rutland chapter of the Society for the Preservation of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, will listen for volume, lyric expression, range, rhythm and the blend of water and voice.

Competition will be solo. Contestants may wear swim suits. Thomas Egan, a member of the Rutland chapter, said the event is intended mainly for the "many quiet people who make like Caruso or Elvis Presley once water hits them between the shoulder blades."

Egan said contestants must agree not to hold Rutland or the society liable "for any injury, including laryngitis and athlete's foot."

Norwegian exports to the United States increased 17 per cent in 1972 over the previous year.

Check On Postal Service Discloses Some Delays Worse

By HOWARD ANGIOINE
Associated Press Writer

The third Associated Press survey of mail service since 1971 shows a delivery pattern that has improved on the average but is prone to worsening delays that affect one letter in six.

The survey method was the same one used for service tests in the winter of 1971 and spring of 1972 — a total of 792 letters were mailed from six cities over five days.

Local deliveries were typical of findings that showed improvement amid worse lapses.

Eight times out of 10, the U.S. Postal Service met its goal of providing next-day service on local mailings, a target that was missed almost half the time in the 1971 and 1972 surveys.

But while the 1972 survey singled out as the worst examples of local service one letter that was in the mail 67 hours and two that were in the mail 63 hours, the 1973 survey recorded one that languished in a local postal system for 93 hours, two bottled up for 71 hours, and two held up for 65 hours.

Similarly, the 1973 survey showed improvement in the average time for intercity deliveries, but found that weekend service was worse than in 1972.

The 1972 survey concluded that Friday was the worst day to mail letters, noting that in a dozen cases delivery was delayed until Tuesday.

In the 1973 survey, 30 letters mailed on Friday weren't delivered until Tuesday, and nine others didn't reach their destinations until Wednesday. Air mail had been used for 14 of the Tuesday arrivals and four of the Wednesday arrivals. In all, 15 per cent of the letters mailed Friday didn't reach their destinations until Tuesday or Wednesday.

To judge over-all performance this year, The AP used a grade system that gave the Postal Service an A for next-day delivery on local and intercity letters; a B for every first-class intercity letter delivered within two days, and for every air mail letter delivered within 1½ days; a C for every first-class letter that took three days, and for every air mail letter that took two days; and a failing F grade for every local letter not delivered the next day, every air mail letter that took more than two days, and every first-class intercity letter that took more than three days.

On this scale, the Postal Service received an A grade 28 per cent of the time, a B 29 per cent, a C 27 per cent, and an F 16 per cent — an F for roughly one letter in six.

Few routes consistently received the same grade, however, and there were frequent swings from A to F over the survey period.

Figures on the average delivery time for intercity first-class mail provided another example of improvement amid inconsistencies that make it difficult to depend on how mail will be handled.

In the 1971 survey, the average delivery time for intercity first-class mail was 2.6 days. In 1973, the comparable figure was 2.4 days, but the average smoothed over one letter that spent a week in the postal system, two that didn't reach their destinations until almost six days after they were mailed, and five that were hung up five days.

The over-all air mail record provided another illustration of improvement while a hard core of problems remained or grew worse.

In the latest survey, 62 per cent of the air mail letters arrived ahead of their first-class counterparts, compared with 46 per cent in 1972 and 50 per cent in 1971. But in all three surveys, 9 per cent of the air mail letters spent more time in the mail than their first-class companions.

In 1971, the average delivery time for air mail was 2.1 days. In 1973, the average was 1.8 days, but two of the 360 air mail letters spent six days hung up in the postal system and five others were not delivered until five days after they were mailed.

Participants in the survey were AP bureaus in six cities — New York, Washington, Chicago, St. Louis, Houston, and Los Angeles.

A staff member in each bureau went to an outside mail box six times — Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10 a.m. local time and the same three days at 4 p.m.

Each time 22 letters were deposited. Two were addressed to the bureau itself — one without a zip code and one with a zip code. Each of the other five bureaus was sent four letters — one first class with a zip code, one first class without a zip code, one air mail with a zip code, and one air mail without a zip code.

Each letter was coded to indicate the time of mailing, and each bureau promptly sorted its mail deliveries to assure an accurate recording of the letters' arrival times.

A total of 148 letters — 19 per cent of the 792 in the survey — arrived in the afternoon mail deliveries that are made to business offices but are not available in residential sections.

Because the participating cities are all on major airline routes, the letters also were not subject to delays frequently encountered on mail sent from cities without major airline trunk connections.

The only change in the method used for the 1971 and 1972 surveys was that afternoon mailings were made this year at 4 p.m. local time instead of 5 p.m. The purpose was to test the Postal Service claim that it records a high percentage of next-day deliveries on air mail letters deposited by 4 p.m.

Zip-coded letters spent an average of 2¾ fewer hours less in the mail than their nonzippered counterparts — 49¼ hours vs. 52 hours — but there was no consistent pattern. Twelve per cent of the zip-coded letters arrived later than their nonzippered counterparts, and 65 per cent of the zip-coded letters arrived at the same time.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

She Keeps Her Mouth Shut

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor of mine loves to sew, and she has made some lovely things. She made a beautiful dress and bonnet for my daughter's fourth birthday, so I took the child to a photography studio and had a picture taken of her in that outfit. Then I bought a frame for it and presented it to my neighbor to show my appreciation.

She seemed pleased and placed the picture on her piano. A few months later I noticed that she had placed a picture of her dog in that frame, and my daughter's picture was nowhere to be seen. I finally told her that as long as she wasn't displaying my daughter's picture, I'd like to have it back. She said, "Certainly." Then she got my daughter's picture out of a drawer and handed it to me.

I said: "How about the frame?" She replied: "Oh, you can buy another one for 75 cents."

Abby, I was so hurt. That frame cost me $1.50. I didn't want to start an argument with her so I just kept my mouth shut.

What would you have done?

HURT
DEAR HURT: I'd have kept my mouth shut.

DEAR ABBY: A couple, merely acquaintances of a few years, have dropped in to see us on three different occasions. They appear to be like other people, except for the husband.

He asks to take a bath the minute they step inside the door. The first time we thought nothing of it because they were on their way home from a day's trip in their car, even though their home is only 5 miles from ours.

My wife and I have never been in their home but we understand it has all the conveniences of ours, including a tub and shower.

On two other occasions when they had come directly from their home, he again asked to take a bath. After the third bath I concluded that he must be some kind of a nut. Needless to say we have never returned their visits and probably never will.

What do you suppose makes our ordinary bathing facilities so fascinating that the husband cannot wait to use his own?

Perplexed in SANTA ANA
DEAR PERPLEXED: I don't know, but I surely would have asked him after the second bath.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column of a man and woman who seemed to be able to adjust to the fact that they have grown heavy together and are still happy. I identified with the woman, as I have been in the 200s since I was 16 years old. One thing, though, I did not identify with was the closing statement: "Who would have us?"

I am sure there are many heavy women who firmly believe that they will never marry because they are fat. I was in the 200s when we married last year. I was lamenting the fact that I was being measured for a size 22½ wedding gown instead of a size 12 or 14. My precious husband-to-be took Big Me into his very trim arms and said: "The things about you I find most beautiful are the things that will never change. Weight can go up or down, but your love for other people, your kindness, your availability for those in need, your love for God and for me... these are beauty, and I find you most beautiful." Needless to say I cried a bucketful of tears for so understanding and loving a man.

May I offer a little advice for the overweight? Use every asset you have regardless of how heavy you are. Keep your hair well groomed, your face nicely made up, wear clothes that flatter you, and concentrate on good manners. Most of all, give yourself to others in your community or in your church. Don't hibernate! Someone also may find your beauty.

Thank you Abby, for the opportunity to say what I have felt, and a special thank-you for the chance to praise my husband openly before the world.

Morgan, Reds Trip Expos, 7-4

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— You could call it Joe Morgan's revenge. But Morgan didn't.

Morgan, Cincinnati's fireplugshaped second baseman, stomped and raged when plate umpire Jerry Dale called him out in a close play in the seventh inning of Wednesday's Cincinnati-Montreal baseball tussle here.

The run Morgan represented would have given the Reds a 4-3 lead.

"I told him he was out of position," Morgan said later. "If he's in position, I have no gripe. But he wasn't. And I told him that ...I told him several times."

Morgan vented his frustrations an inning later, when he boomed a three-run homer off Montreal reliever Tom Walker to seal the Reds' 7-4 victory.

"No, I wasn't mad when I went up there," Morgan said. "You can't go up to the plate mad. You have to forget things. It wasn't revenge."

Morgan's homer highlighted a seven-hit Cincinnati attack that Manager Sparky Anderson admitted, "wasn't too impressive."

The Reds managed only three hits off Montreal starter Balor Moore in five and one-third innings, but took advantage of Moore's errant arm in the sixth to mount a three-run inning.

Again in the eighth, Cincinnati capitalized on Expo mistakes for the winning runs.

Montreal had parlayed a Cincinnati error, a walk and singles by Ron Fairly and Ken Singleton into two runs off winning pitcher Jack Billingham, 3-0, in the fourth.

Moore, meanwhile, cruised until the sixth, then ran into trouble.

Tony Perez singled, Rich Scheinblum walked and Moore threw wildly over first base on Phil Gagliano's sacrifice bunt, allowing Perez to score.

Denis Menke scored Scheinblum with a sacrifice fly, and Cesar Geronimo sent Moore to the showers with a run-scoring single.

"I don't know if Balor was upset about that wild throw," grumbled Montreal Manager Gene Mauch, "but I sure was."

The Expos gained a 3-3 tie in the seventh on two singles and a fielder's choice, but the Reds took a 4-3 lead in the eighth on Larry Stahl's single, a walk, a sacrifice and an error by second baseman Pepe Frias.

Then came Morgan's clinching homer off Walker, who absorbed the loss, his second against one win.

Montreal scored a meaningless run in the ninth.

"This was a big game for us," said Morgan. "Man, we're struggling. We lose today and we're in trouble."

Anderson agreed, pointing to a mounting injury toll. Outfielders Bobby Tolan and Pete Rose were out of the starting lineup Wednesday with minor injuries, and the pitching staff is hurting with Roger Nelson temporarily out of the starting rotation and Gary Nolan out indefinitely.

"We're just not playing well," said Anderson, whose club has a 12-6 record despite the injury problems, and is second to San Francisco in the National League West.

"I don't really know of anything that we've done well this year," he added. "Of course, we've got some people like Morgan and (Dave) Concepcion who're doing very well ...but, overall, we're just not playing well."

The Reds had today off. They host Philadelphia Friday night in the opener of a three-game series.

Montreal opens a series at Houston Friday night.

Staub's Homers Aid Mets Win, 5-2

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gourmet Rusty Staub whipped up a tasty dish for the power hungry New York Mets and, like starving men, they savored every tasty morsel.

Staub, who enjoys puttering around the kitchen of his New York bachelor pad, must have been wondering whether he was eating right before finally chewing up some friendly Houston pitching Wednesday night.

Weighed down by a dreadful 1-for-29 slump, Staub snapped out of it with a pair of solo home runs that powered the Mets to a 5-2 decision over the Astros.

It was the first time this season that the Mets had more than one homer in a game. They had only six homers all year and five of those belonged to John Milner. What's more, Staub was hitting a woeful .102 going into the game...about one batting percentage point for each thousand dollars of salary he earns.

Elsewhere in the National League Wednesday Atlanta trimmed Philadelphia 5-2, Los Angeles beat St. Louis 5-3 in 11 innings, San Francisco shut out Chicago 5-0, and Cincinnati defeated Montreal 7-4. San Diego's game at Pittsburgh was rained out.

Staub's two homers supported a sharp six-hit pitching job by Jerry Koosman, who won his third straight for New York. Good pitching has not been unusual for the Mets this season but good hitting has been and so Staub was the main attraction after the game.

"The one thing that a ball player misses once he gets out of the game," said Staub, "is the elation of success—to have such a bad streak and then such great elation. I just hope I can have a lot more elation this season."

Darrell Evans slugged a two-run triple and then scored on Mike Lum's sacrifice fly as Atlanta jumped off to a quick three-run lead against Philadelphia.

Gary Gentry limited the Phillies to five hits until the ninth when he weakened and Phil Niekro came on to save the victory. Gentry also had a pair of singles, setting up one Atlanta run and driving in another.

The Cubs could have used some hitting against San Francisco's Juan Marichal. The Giants' veteran blanked Chicago, spacing eight hits for his fourth victory in five decisions.

Chris Speier and Dave Kingman slugged home runs for the Giants.

Joe Morgan hit a three-run homer, keying a four-run eighth inning that carried Cincinnati past Montreal.

The Reds had to come from behind for the victory after spotting the Expos an early 2-0 lead.

Willie Davis' 11th inning triple scored the winning run for Los Angeles as the Dodgers beat St. Louis. Davis delivered Billy Buckner, who had singled against ex-Dodger pitcher Alan Foster. Dave Lopes' sacrifice fly drove home Davis with an extra insurance run.

Russians Not Afraid Of Walton

NEW YORK (AP) — The Soviet Union's Olympic championship basketball team has arrived in the United States for another shot at the Americans, and they contend they're not a bit worried about UCLA's talented Bill Walton.

"When we came here two years ago, we heard how great a player Artis Gilmore was," Aleksander Bolostav, a 6-foot-9, 231-pound forward, said. "We won seven out of eight games that time, so we are a bit skeptical about talk of a new star."

Vladimir Kandrashin, who coached the Russians to a controversial 51-50 victory over the United States at Munich for the only American loss in 36 years of Olympic basketball competition, insisted through an interpreter that he had never heard of Walton and knew nothing about him.

Asked if reports that Walton is a better basketball player than Wilt Chamberlain and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar were at the same stage were enough to unnerv him, the stumpy head coach replied:

"We don't get nervous." He said, however, that the Russians expected tougher competition than on their last visit here two years ago. "This is the height of the American basketball season. Your team should be better. We will be happy to win two of the eight games."

3 Age Brackets Seen In North-South Golf

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Three age brackets were represented as the North and South Amateur golf tournament moved into semifinal play today over the No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

The first match sent defending champion Mrs. Jane Booth, 25, from Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., against two-time winner Mrs. Nancy Roth Syms of Colorado Springs, Colo., standardbearer of the 30ish group.

Sovereign Scotch Wins Feature At Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Reed's Pence is the favorite among eight entries in tonight's $1,000 feature pace at Lebanon Raceway.

Wednesday, the perfecta combination of 8-3 returned $314.70.

In the feature race, Sovereign Scotch won its first race in eight starts. The winner paid $10.60, $3.80 and $4.

Dwight Lamar Signed By ABA Conquistadors

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Basketball Association, which postponed its college draft twice in order to select after the National Basketball Association, is apparently ahead of the older league when it comes to signing some top collegians and drafting underclassmen.

Dwight Lamar, a 6-foot-2 sharpshooting guard from Southwestern Louisiana, will sign a long term contract with the ABA's San Diego Conquistadors, his attorney said.

"Monday we consummated an arrangement whereby the ABA entered into a long-term contract with Dwight Lamar," said Bob F. Wright. "We have plans to be in San Diego Sunday to complete the arrangement."

Lamar was the first pick in the ABA's regular draft, held by a phone hookup from the league's New York office, but only a third-round Detroit choice in Tuesday's NBA draft.

Lamar went 45th in the NBA and first in the ABA but the numbers lie. They don't mean that Lamar, the only player in the history of college basketball to have led both the college division and university division in scoring, was more highly regarded by the ABA than its rival league.

Instead, the disparity reflects professional basketball's ongoing war for collegiate talent. Wright said that Portland of the NBA was going to draft Lamar second, but removed him from its list.

"They were seriously trying," Wright said of the NBA's efforts to land the high-scoring Lamar. "But when we reached an agreement with the ABA, we notified the NBA to take him off their list."

The ABA's second choice was Larry Finch, who led his Memphis State team into the NCAA finals last season.

Boston Celtics Edge N.Y. Knicks, 98-97

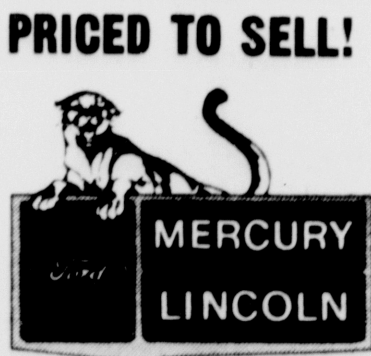

BOSTON (AP) — Dave Cowens, the National Basketball Association's most valuable player of 1972-73, did his thing, John Havlicek gave a typical gutsy performance and then underhanded Paul Silas got into the act.

The combinations enabled the Boston Celtics to edge the New York Knicks 98-97 Wednesday night and remain alive in the NBA's Eastern championship playoff.

Chisox Starve Yankees, 3-0

Cage Draft Mostly Replay For Ohioans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Donald Smith, the University of Dayton's 6-foot-1 hotshot junior guard, was picked by Kentucky in the undergraduate phase of the American Basketball Association draft Wednesday, but his dad said he'll finish college before turning pro.
The regular ABA draft Wednesday looked like a replay of the NBA draft a day earlier, as far as the Ohioans chosen were concerned.
Ed Ratleff of Long Beach State and Dwight Lamar of Southwestern Louisiana, teammates at Columbus East High School, were grabbed up in the first round. Ratleff, picked by Houston of the NBA Tuesday, was tabbed by Denver, and Lamar was picked by San Diego.
Lamar was drafted by Detroit in the NBA draft, but his attorney said Wednesday he had decided to sign a long-term contract with San Diego.
Nick Weatherspoon of Illinois, who played high school ball at Canton McKinley, was picked by Carolina in the second round of the ABA draft. He was a first round selection of Baltimore in the NBA draft.
Derreck Dickey of Cincinnati, a second round choice of Golden State in the NBA selections, was picked by Kentucky in the ABA second round.
The third round saw San Antonio choosing Tom Kozelko of Toledo, who was a third round choice of Baltimore in the NBA.
San Antonio also grabbed Luke Witte of Ohio State in the fifth round, while Witte's teammate, Allan Hornyak, was picked by Indiana in the same round. Witte and Hornyak both were selected by Cleveland in the NBA draft.
Connie Warren of Xavier was tabbed by Denver in the ninth round.
Lima's Jim Andrews, who played at Kentucky, was chosen by Indiana. He was the pick of Seattle in the NBA.
Abe Stewart of Jacksonville, who played high school ball in Toledo, was tabbed by Carolina and Nick Conner of Illinois, who starred at Columbus East, was a choice of San Diego. In the NBA draft, Stewart was chosen by Philadelphia and Conner by Buffalo.

that's what I do," said Wood, who got most everybody out in a five-hit, 3-0 beauty over the Yankees Wednesday.
Wood frustrated the Yankee hitters with a knuckleball that went berserk at times. It was helped along by the weather, according to New York Manager Ralph Houk.
"Today was a good day for him, the dead air and the dampness," said Houk. "That helps him. His knuckleball was really bouncing around today."
In the other American League games, the Boston Red Sox nipped the Minnesota Twins 4-3; the Texas Rangers trimmed the Detroit Tigers 4-1; the Kansas City Royals turned back the Milwaukee Brewers 3-2; the California Angels defeated the Baltimore Orioles 1-0 and the Cleveland Indians trimmed the Oakland A's 1-0.
The only hits off Wood were singles by Matty Alou, Horace Clarke and Roy White before Thurman Munson drilled a ground-rule double down the left-field line in the eighth. Then White collected another single in the ninth.
Mostly, the Yankees were just beating the ball into the ground or popping it up off the Chicago left-hander. Carlos May hit a home run in the first off Mel Stottlemyre for the only run Wood needed.
John Kennedy's run-scoring double in the sixth inning snapped a 3-3 tie and gave Boston its victory over Minnesota. Relief pitcher Bob Bolin saved the game for the Red Sox by striking out Harmon Killebrew with two out and the bases loaded.
Jeff Burroughs' third home run of the season and Toby Harrah's three singles supported Steve Foucault's clutch pitching as Texas whipped Detroit.

Texas starter Rich Hand was relieved in the eighth inning by Foucault, who worked out of a bases-loaded jam with one out.
Wayne Simpson allowed only three hits before Gene Garber took over to get the last two outs of the game as Kansas City downed Milwaukee. It was Simpson's strongest performance since coming to Kansas City from the Cincinnati Reds last winter. "He threw fast balls, mostly," said Kansas City Manager Jack McKeon. "I thought he was in complete command and did an excellent job. I took him out near the end because I felt he was getting a little tired."
Bill Singer fired a four-hitter and bested Dave McNally in a pitcher's duel as California nipped Baltimore. McNally pitched a five-hitter, but lost the game on Bobby Grabarkewitz' RBI single in the eighth.
Dick Tidrow, who entered the game with an 8.06 earned run average, pitched a two-hitter as Cleveland defeated Oakland.

Tribe Tops Oakland A's

OAKLAND (AP) — The World Champion Oakland A's are seeing more good pitching than perhaps any other team in the American League.
Unfortunately, it is being done by the opposition. The Cleveland Indians' Dick Tidrow whipped the A's 1-0 with a twohitter at the Coliseum Wednesday night.
Tidrow, a 25-year-old from nearby Hayward, went into the game with an earned run average of 8.05. The only hits he allowed were a first-inning single by Bert Campaneris and a fifth-inning single by Ray Fosse.
"It was my best game in the majors," Tidrow said. "I was pitching like I did last year for the first time this season."
Last year Tidrow was a 14-game winner for the Indians. He got off to a slow start this season and had failed to last more than five innings in his previous four outings.
Cleveland Manager Ken Aspromonte credited pitching coach Warren Spahn for straightening out Tidrow. Spahn worked on Tidrow's delivery and also his rhythm.
"He was back on the track tonight," Aspromonte said. "He was fantastic."
It took a near perfect game to beat Rollie Fingers, a surprise starter for the A's. Fingers, who was starting his first game in almost two years, gave up only an unearned run and five hits in the six innings he pitched.

Emory Luck Named NIU Cage Coach

DE KALB, Ill. (AP) — There aren't many things that Emory Luck, Northern Illinois University's new head basketball coach, can't do—he can administrate, educate, counsel, relate, recruit, and belong.
And there aren't many things he hasn't done—win 12 letters at Dunbar High in Washington, D.C.; play for the Harlem Globetrotters and coach the Harlem Clowns; coach at Denby and Central High Schools in Detroit; teach physical education and coach the University of Illinois fencing team to the 1969 Big Ten title.
He also has a bachelors and masters degree from the University of Michigan, and three years ago he received a Doctor of Philosophy degree in administration at Illinois.
Luck, an affable, articulate man of 45, came to Northern in 1969 as assistant basketball coach under Tom Jorgensen.
Northern in 1969, like many campuses elsewhere, had been the scene of racial demonstrations.
"Hiring me, a black man, had no connection or bearing with the mood of those days," says Luck. "Jorgy and I struck up a friendship while I was at Michigan and he had asked me earlier to be his assistant before I took the job in 1969."
After seven years at Northern, Jorgensen resigned last month, announcing, "I've lost my enthusiasm for coaching and want to go into business."
There was no question that Luck would replace him, becoming one of about nine blacks in the nation to hold head coaching jobs at major universities. Three of them are in Illinois—Luck, Will Robinson of Illinois State and Walt Moore of Western Illinois.

Lakers Turn Back Golden State, 128-118
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The man called Stumpy won the West for the Los Angeles Lakers, who hope the New York Knickerbockers win the East.
Gail Goodrich, the smallest man on the court at 6-foot-1, scored 44 points in his greatest shooting performance as a professional, in leading the defending National Basketball Association champions to a 128-118 victory over the Golden State Warriors Wednesday night.
The triumph provided Los Angeles with a 4-1 series final verdict in the West and the Lakers now must await the outcome of New York vs. Boston in the East. The Knicks lead 3-2 in games after losing 98-97 on Wednesday night.

cindermen tallied 75½ markers to romp over Washington C.H., 43, and Westfall, 18½.
Warren Yamarick and Jim Cordle were double winners for the Red and Black freshmen. Yamarick won the 100-yard dash in 11.2 and captured the 220-yard dash in 24.9. Cordle won the pole vault with a height of 10 feet and took the 120 low hurdles in 16.5.
Other freshman winners for the Tigers were: Bill Bruno, mile run, 5:29.3; Bunny Weethee, 880 run, 2:23.6; and the 440 relay team, Mike McCoy, Brett Hill, Cordle and Weethee, 50.1.
Winners for the Red and Black junior squad were: Dave Phillips, 120 low hurdles, 17.5; Ray Smith, 1320-yard run, 4:05.7; Greg Berrigan, 440 run, 60.5; Bill Mogan, 880 run, 2:30.5; Frank Merrill, long jump, 16 feet 6 inches; Dave Marshall, high jump, 4 feet 6 inches; Art Davis, discus, 85 feet 9 inches; the 440 relay team, Jim McCoy, Mike Brudzinski, Bill Mogan and Dave Marshall, 55.3; 880 relay team, Mearle Logan, Dave Phillips, Greg Berrigan and Frank Merrill, 1:51.9.

Set POW-Rescue Party Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Americans who were imprisoned at Son Tay will be united here this weekend with the U.S. commandos who dropped from the sky at night over North Vietnam 2½ years ago in a futile attempt to rescue them.

Nearly all of the more than 200 invited guests will be here for a two-day party, but the Texas billionaire who is picking up the tab will be host in absentia, an aide said.

Tom Meurer, who is coordinating the reunion for computer magnate H. Ross Perot, said Wednesday 59 of the 66 Son Tay prisoners had accepted invitations and 74 of the 85 raiders promised to be on hand. More replies are expected, as some guests will come from military posts outside the country.

Perot is paying for airplane tickets, hotel accommodations for the men and their wives and other expenses at a cost Meurer said could be "between $100,000 and $200,000."

But Perot doesn't plan to attend because "he wants the POWs and the raiders to have the publicity," Meurer said.

The daring helicopter raid Nov. 21, 1970, on Son Tay prison camp, 25 miles from Hanoi, came too late — the American prisoners had been moved four months earlier.

But retired Army Col. Arthur B. "Bull" Simons, who led the raid and who will participate in the reunion here, said, "If the chance was one in 10 of getting the men out, it was worth it. It was something every one of those men wanted to do very badly."

Navy Cmdr. Render Crayton, senior commander at Son Tay after he was shot down in February 1966, said the commando raid "gave everybody a tremendous morale boost" when they learned about it from one of the raiders who was captured.

Crayton said the POWs' desire to meet the would-be rescuers was something "we talked about a lot."

The festivities begin at noon Friday with a ticker tape parade in the city's financial district, followed by a luncheon at which John Wayne, star of the movie, "The Green Berets" will speak.

For dinner entertainment Friday night, comedian Red Skelton, actor Clint Eastwood and the Andrews Sisters singing trio will perform, Meurer said. More entertainment will come at midnight Friday with a show featuring the singing group The Supremes.

Saturday is set aside for visiting and sightseeing, including a two-hour sunset cruise on San Francisco Bay.

Year Of Trials To Be Videotaped

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The big eye replaces the flying fingers starting Monday in Franklin County Common Pleas Court in a first-degree murder trial to try to speed up any possible appeal proceedings that may follow.

All criminal trials heard in the common pleas court during a one-year period will be recorded on video tape with the goal "to reduce the time between convictions in a criminal case and termination of the appeal in process," Ohio Supreme Court Chief C. Justice William O'Neill said Wednesday.

The federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration has provided $60,000 for the television recording program.

The general manager of Video Record, Inc., Laurence V. Stone said that while criminal cases have been recorded in other states, this is the first time an entire year's proceedings will be taped.

Each courtroom will be equipped with one camera capable of photographing the judge, jury, witness and both the prosecution and defense tables. The entire trial will be recorded, from jury selection to verdict.

Stone said this will allow courts to keep records of trials without having to hire skilled court reporters, who are expensive and in short supply.

He said immediately after the trial is held, attorneys can view the portions of the trial they want to use as the basis for an appeal and submit it to the appellate court right away.

"I think it will be a better record," O'Neill said. "When you look at the cold, written record, you just have words and characters before you. When you look at the picture, you look right into the eyes of the witnesses."

The chief justice said that should the first case to be recorded reach the Ohio Supreme Court, the tapes would definitely be used.

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

Localized flooding and beach erosion continued Thursday along the Lake Erie shoreline near Toledo.

The National Weather Service said three to five-foot waves rolled in from the northeast. The waves were pushed by northeast winds ranging from 15 to 22 knots.

The service said the wind level would continue through Thursday night.

Meanwhile, temperatures around Ohio will be on the cool side today and tonight. Lows will dip to the 30s and 40s.

Cloudiness will stretch over most of the state Thursday night. Friday will remain cloudy and cool with a chance of showers over all but the extreme northwest. Highs Friday will range from the 40s to the 60s.

Temperature readings at dawn Thursday were in the upper 30s in Toledo, Mansfield and Dayton. Readings in the southeast part of the state were in the upper 40s.

FORECASTS

OHIO

Partly cloudy northwest and cloudy with a chance of showers southeast tonight. Lows from the mid 30s to low 40s. Cloudy and cool with a chance of showers over all but the extreme northwest tomorrow. Highs from the upper 40s to lower 60s.

NORTHWEST INLAND

Clear and cool tonight. Lows in the mid to upper 30s. Partly cloudy and cool Friday. Highs in the low 50s.

3 Decorations Are Developed For Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lt. Col. J.E.P. McCann, administrative assistant to the Ohio adjutant general, has developed three decorations for the Ohio Army National Guard, Air Guard and Ohio Defense Corps, it was announced Wednesday.

The new decorations are:

—The Ohio Cross, a medal with the Great Seal of Ohio on a Maltese-type cross hanging from a blue ribbon signifying fidelity. It will be awarded for heroism involving risk of life.

—The Ohio Distinguished Service Medal, a round medal with a crimson and gray-striped ribbon for military personnel and civilians with exceptionally meritorious service.

—The Ohio Commendation Medal for outstanding service.

Sunoco Trims Gas Allocation To All Dealers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Gasoline allocations to retail dealers are being cut back throughout the Sun Oil Co.'s 34-state marketing territory, a company spokesman says.

Bud Davis, spokesman for the Philadelphia-based company, said Tuesday the amount of Sunoco gas supplied to dealers would be only slightly less than 100 per cent of present allocations.

The cutback was brought by "a shortage of crude oil and increased demand for gasoline," Davis said, noting that Sunoco had boosted its wholesale gas price .9 cents a gallon last week.

Sunoco's marketing area extends west from the Atlantic Ocean to the Dakotas, and throughout the South except for Texas, Louisiana and Alabama.

110,000 Tons Of Bombs Dropped In Laos, Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. warplanes dropped about 110,000 tons of bombs on Laos and Cambodia during the first two months after the Vietnam cease-fire was signed Jan. 27.

Pentagon figures show that 71,000 tons were dropped in February when U.S. bombers and fighter-bombers were ranging over both Laos and Cambodia. This declined to 39,539 tons in March when bombing was limited to Cambodia. Statistics are not yet available for this month.

The bomb-tonnage totals provide a measure of the continuing U.S. bombing operations, which the Nixon administration defends on grounds the Communists are flouting cease-fire-agreement provisions.

Although still heavy, the bombing tonnage in each of the first two months after the Vietnam cease-fire was significantly below the 101,392 in January before the signing when U.S. planes stopped hitting in both South and North Vietnam.

SAVED FROM A RAFT OF TROUBLE — Indianapolis police scuba divers maneuver near a raft holding Gerry Murphy, 21, and Robert Clayton, 22, both of Indianapolis after the men became stranded on a log jam in the White River. Murphy and Clayton had just bought the raft and were testing it when strong currents carried them into the logs. With the use of boats held by ropes and the scuba divers, the two men were rescued from the rapids immediately downstream.

Kleindienst Won't Enter Jury Probe Of Fund Looting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst says he will take no part in a federal grand jury probe of financier Robert Vesco's alleged looting of $224 million from three mutual funds.

Kleindienst, who withdrew from the administration's Watergate investigation last week because of close relationships with persons who might be involved, cited the same reasons Wednesday in quitting the Vesco probe.

A Justice Department spokesman said Kleindienst's decision "hinges upon any persons who might be involved" who have "close personal relationships" to Kleindienst.

Vesco gave $250,000 to the Nixon reelection effort last year when the Securities and Exchange Commission investigation of his alleged looting of the mutual funds was heating up. The money was returned by the Nixon campaign after the SEC sued Vesco.

feminine touch has had its effect.

In one office there is a pink telephone. The captain says the men are neater. And the salty language has been watered down.

The officer of the day Wednesday on the hospital ship USS Sanctuary was Chief Clarence Johns, a Navy man for 17 years. Beside him stood Seaman Christine Paulis, 18, her blonde hair tucked behind her cap.

"I volunteered and I would again," said Miss Paulis, of Pittsburgh, Pa. "We each have our own job and we do it."

Johns added: "It's been fine serving with women. They're different and add something to the ship, and they pull their own weight."

The 55 women are quartered in the forward section of the Sanctuary, the 400 men are aft. Some of the women have found living space cramped and in general dislike sea duty, but others, like Miss Paulis, said they loved it.

"It's no place for a girl," said Seaman Apprentice Debby Mercer, 20, of Dallas, Tex. "The Navy is fantastic but ship life is bad. You're a guinea pig."

"You sleep on a 2½-inch thick mattress on top of your locker. The quarters are about the same for the men, but they don't have curlers, makeup and clothes."

The women interviewed said they have found equal job opportunity on ship and feel that the men accept them.

1973 Directory For City, County Is Published

R. L. Polk & Co. of Taylor, Michigan has started delivery of a complete up-to-date 1973 Circleville City Directory including Pickaway County which this year carries two new features.

The publication is being delivered to its local subscribers. The Directory contains five major departments along with an introduction and statistical and general review of the community.

First the classified section contains a complete list of the names and addresses of business and professional concerns arranged in alphabetical order under their appropriate classified headings.

For the first time, the Alphabetical section of the Directory in addition to showing the name, marital status, occupation and address of each resident of the Circleville and Pickaway County area, shows telephone numbers supplied by residents. Husband and wife are counted as one name, and eighteen is still the minimum age limit of individuals listed.

The third section is the Directory of Householders, including a street and avenue guide. This section lists named streets in alphabetical order. A new feature of the Directory is a New Occupant symbol which identifies all new residents. The residents on every street are listed along with the telephone number at each address.

The Numerical Telephone Directory is the fourth major section of the book. Telephones are listed in order with the individual or business who has the number listed alongside.

Finally, the directory features a keyed county map. The first and last names appearing in the alphabetical section of the Directory are Gerald E. Abbott and Charles O. Zwicker.

Professor Raps Lottery Plans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An economics professor at Ohio State University suggested today that the state might as well "decriminalize gambling" than operate a state lottery.

Dr. Frederick Stocker referred at a news conference to the May 8 ballot proposal which would lift a ban against lotteries and authorize the state to establish and operate one.

With "moral judgments aside and in my role as an economist, I think the state should take the sounder ground and simply decriminalize gambling."

He said experience with lotteries in other states have shown that they do not cut down on numbers and other types of gambling. "They have only been very poor competitors," he said.

CHS Class Of 63 Plans Reunion

The Circleville High School Class of 1963 will hold its reunion June 16 at the Hall Adkins American Legion Post.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Richard Jeffries, 566 Mower Road. Mrs. Jeffries reports she has addresses for all class members except the following: Martha Thomas, Carolyn Dollison, Molly Kelly, Harley Reed, Donald Ramey, Sharon Ramey, Patty Speakman, Barbara McKittrick, John Lemaster.

Nixon Raises Import Quota On Cheese

WASHINGTON (AP) — A move by the Nixon administration to open the door to more foreign cheese is being interpreted by dairy people as an attempt to hold down prices paid to milk producers.

President Nixon Wednesday signed an order aimed at increasing cheese import quotas 50 per cent over the next few months. The order was issued at the request of the Cost of Living Council.

A spokesman for the National Milk Producers Federation said the action by Nixon will tend to dampen prices that milk producers get.

"We're not happy at all," the spokesman said. "Producers are already at a point where there will be more of these products. It will tend to put a lid on prices and hold them down to the support level."

John T. Dunlop, director of the Cost of Living Council, said that "intensified demand" for meat, cheese and other highprotein food has pushed consumer prices up. More foreign cheese, he said, will help ease the situation.

Under the order, an additional 64 million pounds of cheese may be imported. That will raise the quota to 192 million pounds more this year, compared with the original level set at 128 million. Most of the additional cheese will come into the U.S. market by July 31, officials said.

Ohio Penitentiary Blackout Ends

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Power was restored this morning at the Ohio Penitentiary after a blackout that began about 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Penitentiary officials said five inmates disappeared from the prison's hospital area during the power failure. All were captured before they could leave the penitentiary, however.

Columbus police parked cruisers around the prison after the blackout began.

National Institute

Remains In Cincinnati

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health has decided to remain in Cincinnati and plans to build a new $25 million facility employing an additional 200 persons, Rep. William Keating, R-Ohio, said Wednesday.

The institute, which conducts national research, field investigations and training programs in the industrial safety and health fields, had considered moving out of Ohio and had received bids from cities in Texas and California, Keating said.

Sen. Smith Raps Watergate Actions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. Margaret Chase Smith said Wednesday the Watergate scandal is "tarnishing" the office of the presidency and the whole government.

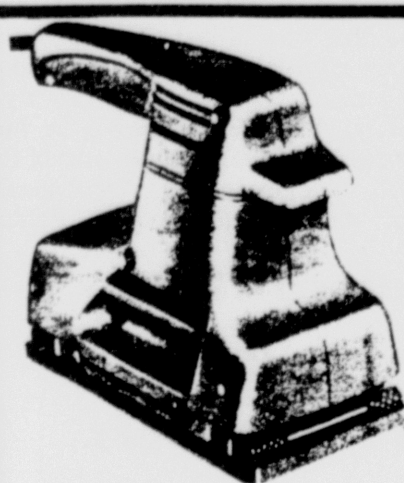

She called for an open investigation of the incident and said President Nixon should replace government officials involved in the political espionage with "men and women of integrity and credibility."

The Maine Republican said the scandal "weakens our position everywhere. It has the people confused and it is a perplexing situation and it's shocking," she said.

An automobile engine can't pollute unless it is operating. A car won't wear out and become junk unless it is driven. In other words, when you drive a car, you take on a big responsibility, not only in terms of highway safety, but also in environmental safety. We'll help you in this responsibility.

Anywhere you see the NAPA sign, you can be sure you're getting replacement parts that meet or exceed all original equipment specifications. And, you can be sure that you're dealing with highly qualified automotive technicians. You'll be dealing with professionals who realize the importance of proper maintenance and are ready to help.

Let's be responsible. Together we can keep your car out of the top ranks of the polluters and the front rows of the junkyards.

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An interesting day and evening to decide what your need is of a philosophical nature, or what you require to have for a happy life. You now have the chance to make specific, workable plans for such improvement.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Don't try to do what you know is beyond your ability, but be happy with whatever you can do best. Get know-how from one who is good at detail. Avoid one who likes to hurt you in one way or another.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You always like new ideas and can get them now from allies, friends and new contacts. Meet with persons who can help you gain your finest aims. These can be along personal or business lines.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get in touch with that expert who can help you expand in whatever is of greatest interest to you. Make sure your credit is good. Don't forget to pay important bills.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Make a fine impression on new contacts today; plan to meet persons who have been difficult to see before. Write to out-of-towners and get the data you need.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Fine day for handling obligations you have been putting off for some time. Pay bills, make collections, work like a beaver. Follow your intuition where that personal aim is concerned.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Do your utmost to have more harmony with allies instead of expecting too much of them. Allow for human error. Use your intellect to handle that outside matter in a most correct way.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If you show co-workers that you are very efficient, they will cooperate more willingly with you. Make your surroundings more charming. Stay within your budget, and show that you have good taste.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Find out what family expect of you or what their ideas are, and be more cooperative with them. Show more affection for mate and get better results. Use your imagination, artistry more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to go after the interests that mean a great deal to you, business or personal. Don't permit tensions to get you down. Show others you have a good sense of humor.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Good day to handle that letter writing, travel matters, errands, in a most efficient way. Make sure all of your important papers are in good order. Know who your true friends are.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study your budget and find better ways to add to income so you can keep up with rising cost of living and have more for luxuries you like. Listen to what a bigwig has to suggest. Arrive on time for that important appointment.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Ideal day to meet with bosom friends and work out better plans for the social life you want in the future. Get into a group affair that can have fine results. Avoid one who does not appreciate you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people who seems to be always on the negative side of life, so be sure to give the right diet and teach to laugh more. Treat with kindness, but firmness, so that all the fine talent in this chart will come to the fore, and much success and happiness will be achieved throughout the lifetime. The good psychiatrist especially, could easily be in this chart. Music lessons could bring out a genius here, too. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Few of us ever have seen a miracle. We'll get the chance tonight when the CBS Television network takes a big corporate gamble and broadcasts "You and the Commercial."

It's about the billion-dollar world of television advertising. But it's no puff job. It's wry, tough, occasionally funny and consistently interesting. You definitely should watch it.

It names advertisers the Federal Trade Commission has taken to task for playing loose with the truth. It adds injury to exposure by rerunning and examining the offending commercials in sharp detail.

It notes that officials of six of the nation's biggest advertisers—Procter & Gamble, General Foods, Warner-Lambert, Bristol-Myers, Colgate-Palmolive and American Home Products—declined to be interviewed for the show.

And it shows a "counter-commercial"—never seen before on network television—in which actor Burt Lancaster sharply criticizes in dire terms the engine mounts on certain Chevrolet models.

The 57-minute documentary, narrated by Charles Kuralt, isn't a one-sided assault on the advertising game.

The industry's defenders are amply represented, the most prominent defender Archibald Foster, chairman of the Ted Bates advertising agency, the fifth largest in the world.

But the show does take a very close, hard look at the way television commercials are produced, their effect on the viewer and how the new, improved FTC is working to protect the consumer.

It will make you shake your head at times, particularly the segment covering the painstaking way viewer response to commercials and viewer recall of them is measured.

The show was produced and written over a 10-month period by Irv Drasin, who also shares on-camera interview chores with Kuralt.

For some reason, "You and the Commercial" has no sponsor.

"I think it proper that it isn't being sponsored," Drasin said. "It would tend to give any sponsor an aura of being above the battle, when in fact all of advertising is involved."

"Also, it might be ludicrous if we halted a show about commercials for a commercial."

This is the miracle of the show, because until now the primary rule of television has been "don't anger the sponsor."

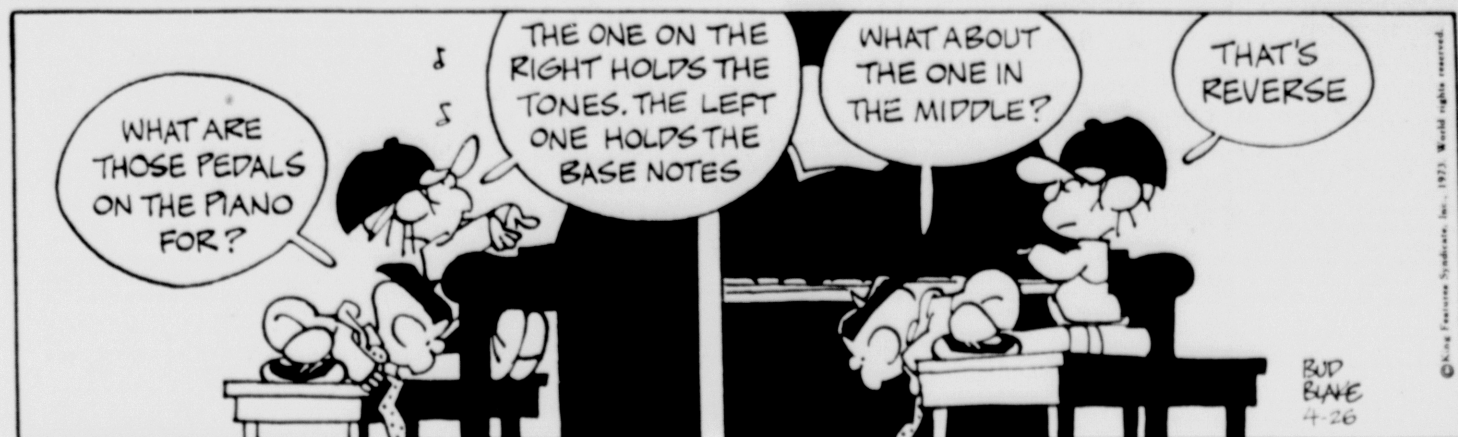

By letting viewers inspect the ways of the TV sponsor, Drasin and CBS officials have put their heads in the lion's mouth. But they deserve a loud cheer from consumers, who ultimately pay for all those commercials they hate, ignore or even occasionally enjoy.

Lake Erie Fish Kill Discovered

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—State pollution control authorities are investigating what may be a major fish kill in Lake Erie off Lorain County.

Ray Matjasic Jr., a public information officer for the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, said specialists operating in a U.S. Coast Guard boat found dead fish as far as half a mile out into the lake Tuesday.

Robert Sturtz, superintendent of the Elyria water treatment plant, made the first report on the fish kill.

"We observed many thousands of dead fish as far out in the lake as we could see," Sturtz said. "I have seen fish kills before, but never this big."

"This looks like it could be a major fish kill," said Al Smith of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Ohio District office.

He said it was unlikely it was a natural kill resulting from depletion of oxygen in the water, because so many species of fish were affected. Fish found along the shore included white bass, smelt, carp, perch and shad, Smith said.

Matjasic said if a chemical is found to be the cause of the kill, EPA officials hope "to find out if the effluent is still coming out and if it is, stop it fast."

Tests were being made on several fish at the Lorain water pollution office. Water samples also were being tested.

The
SECOND NATIONAL BANK

OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

AFFILIATED WITH BANCOMPO CORPORATION

ARCHITECT'S CONCEPTION—This is the architect's sketch of the new Citizens Bank in Ashville. Construction of the bank is expected to be completed June 1 and an open house will be held soon after. Temporary banking facilities have been set up during construction of the new building.

Citizens Bank In Ashville Eyes June 1 Completion Date

The expansion and remodeling of the Citizens Bank, Ashville, is expected to be completed by June 1.

The project was initiated because of the bank's need for additional space to adequately serve its customers and to provide for expanding and modernizing services.

The new bank will have an enlarged banking area of 5,000 square feet. There will be 1,200 square feet on the second floor designated as lease area.

The bookkeeping and work area has been tripled. In addition to a closing room for banking transactions there are two private offices for loan or investment discussions. Access to the drive-in window has been improved. The parking area, and sidewalk on Main Street in front of the bank will be improved. There will be new furniture throughout the building.

Fifth Girl Enters Teen Pageant

LINDA K. CARTER

Circleville junior Linda K. Carter is the fifth Pickaway County girl to enter the state competition of the Miss National Teen Ager Pageant.

Linda, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawrence Carter, Route 2, joins Brenda Brown, April Wilamowski, Kelly Wells and Brenda Brinker as entrants in the Ohio pageant for girls ages 13 to 17.

Girls are judged for their scholastic achievements, civic contributions, poise, personality and appearance. It is not a talent or bathing suit contest.

All 50 states and the District of Columbia hold official state finals pageants, and it gives recognition to girls in their respective communities.

Applications will be accepted until June 8 for the Miss Ohio Teen Ager pageant, which will be held at the Sheraton Dayton on July 13 and 14.

The newest Pickaway County contestant is a top student at Circleville High, and holds a 3.5 grade point average. She is a member of 4-H, the Junior Leaders, GAA, both the concert and marching bands and is a majorette.

Linda was elected secretary of her Junior Class and belongs to the English Merit Society. In her free time, she gives baton twirling lessons. She has plans for a career in modeling.

Cable Television Studied For Cincy

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cable television must extend and enrich the quality of its viewers' lives, according to the report of a 26-man task force appointed by former mayor Thomas A. Luken.

The report asks that the city delay any decision on ownership of the system until studying the economic and technical factors involved.

Stoutsville News

By MRS. A. B. WYNKOOP — 474-5922

Mrs. Louise Byers, of Columbus, visited Sunday with Mr. and Arthur E. Wynkoop, Mrs. Helen Root, Mrs. A. B. Wynkoop and A. B. Wynkoop at the nursing home.

Mrs. Leona Rife spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mack Young and family in Circleville.

The Amanda-Clearcreek Junior High Band and Chorus will present its spring concert May 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the Stoutsville gym.

High School Band and Chorus Spring Concert will be held the following Sunday, May 6, at 3 p.m. at the Amanda gym. Donations will be taken at the door for both concerts.

The annual Band Boosters Banquet will be held May 7 at 6:30 p.m. at the Amanda building in the cafeteria. It will be potluck, with everyone attending responsible for providing his own table service. Drinks will be provided. Come to honor band members.

Future dates to remember:
May 18-19—it's Variety Show time, theme of "Show Business '73." 8 p.m. each evening.

June 2—Ice Cream Social at 5 p.m. on lawn of Amanda School.

Keep these dates open so you can support the Band Boosters and members of the band.

Mr. and Mrs. Estell Salyers and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Conrad.

Mrs. Pauline Pearce of Tarlton visited her mother Mrs. May Rhymer Thursday.

U.S. Postmaster General E. T. Klassen is proclaiming the week of April 29 through May 5 as "Postal Week."

"The special week is set as an appropriate occasion for recognition of the vital responsibilities assigned to the mail service and a valid time to take stock of the challenges which must be jointly met by postal people and by the millions of citizens throughout America who depend upon the mail as an essential part of their personal and business lives," Klassen noted.

As part of the observance, the Stoutsville Post Office will join the nation's 31,000 postal centers in issuing 10 special stamps honoring postal employees and souvenir envelopes will be passed out on a first come basis on April 30.

Postal Week posters will be going up to draw attention to the event and to tell about the new stamps.

Postmaster Lucille G. Justus welcomes each and everyone to come in during this week of celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thorne, son Robert and daughter Nancy of Gahanna, spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Roy Harden.

Mrs. Faye Fausnaugh spent Easter Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Berman Fausnaugh and daughter Brenda of near Laurelville.

May Rhymer, Marcella Arledge, Ruth and John Miranda, of Stoutsville, as well as Isabel Badger, Alice Scotthorn, Nellie Oldaker, Alton Stonerock and Gladden Troutman of Circleville, Helen Kneec of Mead, were visitors and entertainers at the Chillicothe Senior Citizens monthly meeting and carry-in.

Mrs. Viola Hartranft of Tarlton started the kitchen band, Forever Young, a few months ago. Her sister, Mrs. Pauline Pearce, is band leader. Singing is led by Mrs. Ruth Miranda.

Seven novelty numbers (parodies) of tunes of yesteryear and a selection of religious songs were presented. The band, now consisting of 12 members, are also members of the Pickaway Senior Center. Their first paid performance will be May 23 at the L-K Restaurant in Circleville for the K of P state poster judging contest.
